U.S. Draws Line In Asia

Red China's Modern War Ability In Tailspin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is drawing the line in Southeast Asia at a time when Red China's ability to fight a major modern war is in a tailspin.

China's worn-out air force is starved for spare parts and new planes to replace a jet fleet that is largely of Korean War vintage.

Her army, huge in manpower, is strapped for up-to-date tanks and short on artillery.

There are serious scarcities of fuel to run the planes, tanks and vehicles that China does have.

Red China's military deterioration set in about four years ago when the growing ideological dispute with the Soviet Union led Moscow to shut off supplies and technical help to China.

One effect of this has been to set back the day when China can explode her first atom bomb.

The Soviet-Chinese split seemingly has deepened and the prospect that the Soviet Union will resume arming China is considered remote.

U.S. officials regard as significant Moscow's recent warning to Red China that she should no longer count on Soviet backing in a crisis.

Some high officials believe this Soviet action was a direct result of repeated U.S. warnings that it is ready to risk war with China to keep Southeast Asia from falling under Communist domination.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said it will be "many, many years" before Red China is a first-class power.

This evaluation, based on solid intelligence information, is a main underpinning for the new U.S. "hard line" toward China.

There is an awareness that China could feel forced to call this country's hand.

She could, as she did in Korea, send hordes of men rolling into Southeast Asia.

The latest intelligence reports show no evidence of any Chinese massing of forces in South China, sources said.

But the United States has no intention of getting into a ground war with China unless there is no other way out.

What this country would do, officials have indicated in private, is to apply its massive air power. China's obsolescent air force would be virtually helpless to halt such an assault.

If China infiltrated the jungles of Laos and Viet Nam in a guerrilla offensive on a big scale, it would be hard to halt such a surge on the ground.

But U.S. aircraft could be expected to hit hard at the sources of supply and reinforcement in China, at highways and railroads, if necessary at industrial centers and bases deeper in the country.

Even withholding its great nuclear power, this country's air force and its potent naval air arm could drive home devastating blows.

U.S. intelligence has pinpointed a series of military bases and a vast network of roads and railways radiating from South China's Yunnan Province toward North Viet Nam and Burma.

Available Marine and Army strength in the Western Pacific is too thin to undertake a major, sustained ground war.

The main U.S. force of this kind in that general area is a Marine Division on Okinawa, including a battalion landing team afloat with the U.S. 7th Fleet in Asian waters, plus an Army airborne brigade on Okinawa.

There are two Army Divisions in South Korea, but these are pinned down by the ever-present threat from Red North Korea.

On Hawaii, the 25th Infantry Division stands ready as the theater reserve.

The United States has vastly improved its airlift in recent years and reinforcements, including a Marine division on the West Coast and Army troops from the United States, could be flown across the Pacific.

Johnson Due Briefing Dulles Sees No Flareup Over Civil Rights Trio

More Rights Workers To Head South

400 End Training And Will Leave For Tense Mississippi

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Some 400 young civil rights workers, who have channeled their fears into subdued anger and iron determination, wind up a week's training today and will leave this weekend for racially tense Mississippi.

The young people — mostly white volunteers from northern and western colleges — say they are going prepared for the worst since the baffling disappearance of three colleagues in Mississippi.

They were urged Thursday to "rededicate yourselves to work harder" and were told that "no form of struggle can be determined by casualties."

Bayard Rustin, nationally known civil rights leader, also told the students that "we should dedicate ourselves in their names." In referring to the missing civil rights workers, one of whom attended the first integration training school here last week.

"You do not stop," said Rustin, organizer of the march on Washington last summer. "There will be casualties when our only weapons are your bodies."

"Our attention should be to remove the conditions in Mississippi that led to this brutality so that no future generation of people in Mississippi could grow up and do this same kind of thing," Rustin said.

Rustin repeatedly urged the colleagues to be nonviolent. "The civil rights movement has attributed more to American society and democracy for all people, rather than just Negroes, because of the nonviolent philosophy."

Sewage Fees Might Cease For Midland

Acting on the recommendation of Mayor Eli G. Corak, Midland Borough Council Thursday night scheduled a meeting with the Municipal Authority to discuss eliminating the sewage charge to families.

Mayor Corak recommended the meeting, citing the hardships which he said will be imposed on many residents because of the recently imposed 4-mill real estate increase set by School Board Directors.

Council agreed to meet with the authority headed by Dr. Zanzel Sigal at its meeting July 9.

At present, the quarterly charge is $4.50 per family with collections totaling about $28,000 yearly.

In a letter to Council members, Mayor Corak said: "I am certain that each of you is aware of the 4-mill real estate increase that has been imposed on borough property owners by the School Board Directors because of necessary mandated increases."

"I am also certain that you fully realize the effect this will have on property owners in

Warmup To Continue With Fair Skies Seen

Those summer-like temperatures in the mid-80's will continue through Saturday, according to the Ohio weatherman who said skies will be clear tonight and tomorrow will be sunny.

The downtown had a mild 56 at 6 a. m. and today may see a high of 85 degrees.

St. Augustine Strife

45 Are Injured In Race Violence

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Hundreds of white segregationists raced into a civil rights march Thursday night, screaming and flailing at Negroes in this city's worst outbreak of racial violence.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King said only the non-violence of Negroes "saved the city from a bloody night of terror."

At least 45 persons were injured and 15 of them were treated at a hospital. Dozens were arrested.

Protests were halted today as integrationists asked federal court in Jacksonville to overturn an order by Gov. Farris Bryant barring any group-integrationist or segregationist march from demonstrating after 8:30 p.m.

King said that he appealed to the White House for help at the height of Thursday night's melee and was assured the matter would be investigated. He frequently has called for federal marshals' protection.

For the first time in three weeks of almost daily confrontations, State Police were openly threatened. On at least two occasions, angry whites surrounded isolated groups of state

Retired City Businessman

Robert Sample, 102, Dies Following Sudden Illness

Robert W. Sample of St. Petersburg, Fla., a retired merchant who still considered East Liverpool his home, died Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in St. Anthony's Hospital in St. Petersburg of an illness that struck him suddenly on June 18. He was 102.

Word of Mr. Sample's death was telephoned last night at 7 to his son, Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., who was attending a special Council meeting at City Hall.

Mr. Sample was stricken a week ago yesterday at his home in the Florida city, where he had resided full-time for four years. In a coma at first, he later rallied and was able to talk with physicians and nurses.

100 Sailors Join Hunt In Mississippi

Johnson Aide Says 'Situation Requires Careful Handling'

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Presidential fact-finder Allen Dulles says he doesn't see "any likely explosion" in this Deep South state over the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers.

U.S. sailors joined state and federal officers again today to comb this east-central Mississippi area for any clues to the trio, missing since last Sunday.

President Johnson ordered the sailors from the nearby Meridian Naval Air Auxiliary Station to join the search late Thursday. One hundred sailors teamed with FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen to wallow knee-deep in mud through snake-infested swamps. Another 100 sailors were on standby duty at their base.

Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 21, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, were last seen Sunday night when released from jail here after paying a speeding fine.

The only clue to their mysterious disappearance was the finding Tuesday of their burned-out station wagon 17 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was expected to brief President Johnson today on his mission to Mississippi. Dulles returned late

Area Soldier Hurt Badly In Plane Crash

A Lisbon area serviceman was one of 15 occupants injured when an Army transport plane crashed on takeoff from a temporary airstrip northeast of Ridgeway, S. C. about midnight Wednesday.

Seven were killed, including five passengers, and seven soldiers on the ground were injured.

Spcl. 5C Donald Dale Whittington, 21, was seriously injured in the accident. He was aboard the plane as assistant flight manager.

The Air Force advised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kelly of Lisbon R. D. 3, that he had suffered "very serious head injuries." The telegram received Thursday at 4:45 p. m. also said there is "slim possibility" the serviceman would recover.

His parents drove immediately to Ridgeway Hospital and were to phone a sister of the serviceman, Mrs. James (Deloris) Dennis, of the Laurel Motel near Chester between 3 and 4 p. m. today with a report on the soldier's condition. Kelly is employed in the service department of the East Liverpool office of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Spcl. 5C Whittington was graduated from Beaver Local High School in 1961 and entered the Army's air arm in March 1962.

Five occupants of the plane were killed and the other 15 occupants were injured. Two other soldiers on the ground in the vicinity of the crash site were also killed, and seven soldiers on the ground were injured. One of those injured was Spcl. Larry Johnson of Mingo, Jefferson County.

Cites Failure To Cope With Automation

Scranton Raps Johnson And 'Ostriches' In GOP

DETROIT (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton hit today at what he termed failure of President Johnson's administration and "ostriches" within his own Republican party to cope with problems of automation.

"The underlying philosophy of the Johnson administration boils down basically to this: Delay automation as long as possible, harassing industry," Scranton declared in remarks prepared for delivery in this industrial city only hours before Johnson would appear here for an evening address at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Turning on the GOP, Scranton, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, declared:

"I must tell you that I think no more highly of the response of the ostriches in our own party. Their response appears to be: Bury your head in the lone prairie, until this and all other problems somehow go away."

Though Scranton did not mention Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, in the light of recent statements by Scranton his remarks appeared aimed at the Arizona senator. Goldwater presently holds a big edge in delegate strength for the nomination.

Scranton is campaigning in Michigan with hopes he could put some 45 Michigan delegates on ice for second-ballot support at next month's San Francisco convention.

Scranton proposed five points to meet the problem of automation "and to translate its benefit into a better, happier, more productive future for all of our people."

His proposals:

Remove restrictions on automation so that the nation can "maintain our competitive position in world trade" by turning out "all the goods that our economy can produce."

Encourage labor and management to "accept their full share of the responsibility for solving the short-range problems (of automation) that will be created."

"Launch a massive program of job retraining."

Gear education to "meet the needs of the new economy and the new society" and provide more funds through "altered" federal tax disbursements.

Establish a state and national clearing house "to match available workers with available jobs."

Though three Michigan delegates were counted to Goldwater, the rest of the 48-member delegation are following the favorite-son lead of Gov. George W. Romney to the first ballot.

Scranton told a news conference Thursday night indications were in Michigan "that we're in a very favorable position."

Scranton Raps Rival In Cleveland Speech

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's first visit to Ohio in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination produced only a trickle of the state's national convention delegates and alternates invited to lunch here with him.

Only four of the state's 58 delegates showed up Thursday, along with seven alternates. The delegates are committed to Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio as a favorite son on the first ballot at the convention next month.

Scranton leveled a blistering attack on his front-running opponent for the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, in a speech to an estimated 5,000 at Public Square.

He called the policies of the Arizona "completely outside the context of our party."

House Okays $375 Million Transit Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday passed, 212 to 189, a bill for $375 million federal aid to cities struggling with problems of decayed and dwindling transit systems.

Passage of the measure, similar to one already approved by the Senate, was a victory for President Johnson and for a coalition of Democrats and urban-area Republicans. Johnson had put mass transit legislation high on his priority list of bills to be passed this year.

In a statement, he described the House action as "a major step forward in cooperation by the state and federal governments on urban problems."

The bill would authorize appropriations of $75 million for the first year and $150 million in each of the two succeeding years for research and actual purchase of buses and other equipment to build up transit systems.

The money cannot be applied to operating expenses.

Leaflets To Be Issued

Chester Trash Cleanup Planned For July 6-31

A four-week cleanup campaign, including distribution of promotion leaflets and hauling of trash by volunteer workers, will be held in Chester July 6-31.

The program will be sponsored by Chester members of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce, headed by Ron Gibbs.

Gibbs said property owners, businesses and industries will be contacted by letter to participate in the drive, aimed at making Chester "a more beautiful place to live in and to do away with many health and accident hazards."

He urged property owners to "take a second look" at their properties and consider possible improvements, especially elimination of weeds, brush or rubbish.

Door-to-door distribution of leaflets will be conducted by Chambers members prior to pickups in each of five areas of the city.

Boy Scouts will assist in the pickups, utilizing bottles and scrap paper obtained as a fund-raising project, Gibbs said. Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner and Walter Jordan will provide trucks for the pickup, and Mrs. Dorothy Cornell has authorized use of the city dump for the trash.

Teams 1 and 2 will begin the campaign of distributing leaflets Monday in the northeast section of town, including Pan Ave. to 8th St., the Mill Addition, Meadowcrest and Carolina Ave. to 3rd St. The truck pickup for the area will be July 8.

Team 3 will distribute in High Acres, Georgia Ave., Florida Ave., Louisiana Ave., Indiana Ave. to 3rd St. and 4th, 5th and 6th Sts. starting July 6. The truck pickup will be July 15.

Team 4 will distribute in the area of Carolina Ave. to 1st St., Pennsylvania Ave., Indiana Ave., Montana Ave. and Fairview St. starting July 13. The truck pickup will be July 22.

Team 5 will start July 22 with a distribution on Columbia Dr., California Ave., Virginia Ave. and Adolphus St. The truck pickup will be July 29.

New Blacktop Surface Due Dresden Ave.

Work Will Stretch To Rt. 170 From Freeway Junction

Council approved legislation Thursday night that cleared the way for blacktop resurfacing of the California Hollow stretch of Dresden Ave. and Route 30 from the junction with the new Freeway north to Route 170 at Substation.

Council approved two ordinances pledging the city's cooperation in the $6,000 State Highway Department project and providing $600 as the city's share.

The resurfacing will include a quarter-mile of Dresden Ave. for which maintenance is the city's responsibility — from the north corporate limits to the traffic signal at the point where old Route 30 links up with the northbound lanes of the first Freeway stretch.

The improvement inside the city limits will extend for 1,426 feet of resurfacing of the 20-foot pavement. The new surface will be approximately 1½ inches thick.

The $600 represents the city's share of the project inside the corporate limits.

Council gave quick approval to the enabling legislation after hearing a brief explanation of the state's plans from Mayor Merrill D. Hall and Safety

Time Set For Meeting On St. Clair Ave. Job

A pre-construction conference on the St. Clair Ave. project will begin at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The date for the start of construction may be set at the session. It will bring together representatives of Herman Brothers, Inc., of Youngstown, the contractor, officials of the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, spokesmen for utility companies whose lines will be affected and the city administration.

The Youngstown firm was awarded a $785,788 contract for the job June 11. It calls for a three-lane concrete pavement and a new drainage system from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits.

Driver Hurl'd From Car By Rig's Impact

A tractor-trailer rig crashed into the rear of a halted sedan, hurling the motorist from the driver's seat across the highway on his back, and pushing the car into another ahead Thursday afternoon at 2:30 on Route 66 south of Newell.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Roy E. DeLong, 45, of 513 Florida Ave., Chester, escaped probable death or serious injury when the impact hurled him from the car.

DeLong's car was struck in the rear by the rig driven by Milan Subotich, 32, of Weirton, forcing the DeLong car into a station wagon driven by Irvan E. Myers, 37, of New Cumberland, R. D. 1, deputies said.

DeLong, driving a 1955 sedan, and Myers, in a 1960 station wagon, had halted for a car that was turning into the Club Daily Double on Route 66 at the bottom of the grade that begins near the tavern.

All three vehicles were headed south. Deputies said the impact of the rig crashing into the rear of the sedan hurled DeLong from the driver's seat, sending him sliding across the highway on his back. DeLong's car was demolished, there was damage in excess of $100 to the station wagon, and no damage listed to the rig, owned by the Weir Cove Moving & Storage Co.

DeLong was treated for abrasions and lacerations by his physician, deputies said. Subotich was cited on a charge of failure to have his rig under control and was to receive a hearing today before New Cumberland Squire John D. Herron.

Meanwhile, the sheriff's office is continuing to investigate the accident Wednesday night at 10:20 on Route 30 near Chester in which a tractor-trailer rig overturned, demolishing two parked cars in the Club Pad-dock lot.

The driver of the rig, Russell Beck of Bridgewater, said he averted to avoid a collision with an unidentified Oldsmobile sedan that was backing out of the club's parking lot as he came over the brow of a hill. The unknown driver continued on his way after the mishap and deputies are seeking to learn his identity.

The United States appointed its first ambassadors in 1893, to France, Germany, Great Britain, and Italy. Before that time, ministers represented the U. S. in other lands.

Mr. Sample

es, according to word relayed to his son.

Mr. Sample retired 34 years ago after 36 years as operator of shoe stores in Wellsville and East Liverpool.

Councilman Sample is his only surviving immediate relative. The elder Mr. Sample also has a nephew in Ben Avon, Pittsburgh. He also leaves a grandchild and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Sample observed his 102nd birthday anniversary last March 15. He passed the day quietly in his Florida home, with visits from friends there, including some from East Liverpool who were wintering in the resort city.

Until a few years ago, Mr. Sample traveled with the seasons between East Liverpool and Florida, making his summer home here and going to the southern state for the winter. However, he made his home in Florida full-time starting in 1960.

He kept up with East Liverpool happenings by reading The Review and he wrote to his son, particularly in the dead of winter to report on the balmy southern climate.

He planned a trip to East Liverpool in the summer of 1961 to renew old acquaintances, but his physician advised against it because of the chilly, damp weather here at the time.

On his 100th birthday anniversary in 1962, Mr. Sample was presented with an illuminated parchment scroll from the First United Presbyterian Church, of which he was a life-time elder. His son took the scroll to Florida for the presentation that highlighted the birthday observance.

Mr. Sample was born March 15, 1862, at Samples Mills in Hampton Township, Allegheny County, a son of Robert and Elizabeth Wallace Sample. His father was known as "Robert Sample, the miller" because he operated a flour and sawmill.

When his father died in November 1876, the family disposed of the farm and mill and moved to Pittsburgh's North Side. Mr. Sample worked in a shoe store as a boy and later as a clerk.

He spent five years with the Verner Shoe Co. at Pittsburgh, managing the men's department. He was sent from there in 1894 to take charge of a shoe store at Wellsville which was in the hands of creditors.

Early in 1895, Mr. Sample purchased the store, operating it for about two and a half years. He moved to East Liverpool in 1898.

Mr. Sample operated an East Liverpool shoe business for 33 years, retiring in 1930.

On Sept. 28, 1894, he was married to the former Miss Sara Dickey of East Liverpool. Mrs. Sample died Sept. 22, 1947. A son died in February 1921 when he was 4.

Mr. Sample's brother, W. J. Sample, was associated with the Grogan Jewelry Co. at Pittsburgh until he died a few years ago.

Mr. Sample served eight years on the Board of Education — from 1918 to 1926. He also took an active part in the "dry" cause for many years.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by Dr. A. K. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday night.

Man Given Term For Violation Of Probation Term

William Jerry Snodgrass, 117 W. 2nd St., went to County Jail today to serve a 90-day term after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff sentenced him for violation of the terms of probation he was granted May 1 in a theft case.

Snodgrass originally was given the 90-day sentence for alleged theft of three electric coffee-makers valued at $36 on April 30 from the Croxall Chemical & Supply Co., where he was employed. But the court suspended imposition of the sentence after laying down various clauses for probation.

Snodgrass was taken before the judge this morning after the police cited him Thursday night on an intoxication charge.

"One of the terms of the probation was that you would refrain from drinking, but last night you were brought in for intoxication," the judge told Snodgrass. "The court took a chance on you, but apparently you don't want to be helped. The probation is rescinded and you will serve 90 days in County Jail."

Medical, Dental Degrees Given 2

Two 1957 graduates of East Liverpool High School have received degrees from Ohio State University in Columbus.

James Hodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royd J. Hodge of Bradshaw Ave., received a doctor of medicine degree and was honored for "distinguished achievement in medicine" at a senior recognition dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. Hodge will reside in New Orleans, where he will intern at Charity Hospital.

Richard J. Risinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Risinger of Blackmore St., received his doctor of dental surgery degree and an award as "outstanding senior dental student" of this year's graduating class, by Delta Sigma Delta Dental fraternity.

Dr. Risinger and his wife will reside at Quantico, Va., where he will be stationed in the Navy program.

300 Obtain Chester's City Driving Licenses

Although the deadline falls next Tuesday, only 300 have obtained Chester city driver's licenses for the new fiscal year July 1, 1964-June 30, 1965, City Clerk Roy Cashdollar said today.

Cashdollar said 1,692 of the licenses were issued for the current fiscal year, so over 1,300 have not obtained the new permits. The fee is $2.

Effective tonight and continuing through Tuesday night, Cashdollar's office will be open each day from 6 to 9 p. m. for issuance of the permits. They also may be obtained at the City Hall during regular office hours from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

Workers

Thursday night to Washington after two days in this state.

"I don't see any likely explosion," Dulles told an impromptu airport news conference in Washington.

He hastened to add: "The situation requires careful handling."

Dulles, who did not come to Philadelphia, said the search for Schwerner, Goodman and Chaney "is in good competent hands."

Before leaving the state he met at Jackson for 90 minutes with state civil rights leaders and again conferred with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

Two of the civil rights leaders who met with Dulles later asked for a personal meeting with President Johnson to discuss the racial situation in this state.

"Negroes now feel a kind of frustration never experienced before," Aaron Henry of Clarksdale and Charles Evers of Jackson said in a telegram to the White House.

Henry is state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Evers, brother of the late Medgar Evers, who was slain by a sniper a year ago, is the organization's field secretary.

At Meridian, James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, expressed concern about the nature and progress of the investigation.

He said he felt protection was required for other civil rights workers throughout the state — "that's why we called for marshals."

"No one asked for a special number," Farmer said. "Just to have marshals around would be a great deterrent factor to violence."

The White House first announced that 200 Marines would join the search but later said the report was "inadvertently inaccurate" and only sailors from the Meridian base would be used.

The erroneous report that Marines would be used stirred resentment among some Mississippi members of Congress, including Rep. John Bell Williams, who said the President bowed to "left-wing racial agitators."

Williams said that if President Johnson is so concerned about helping to find missing persons, he should turn his attention to New York City where he said, 10,500 persons were reported missing last year, of whom 188 are still listed as missing.

Earlier, Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., whose home is Philadelphia, told the House the disappearance of the three men may be a hoax designed to attract publicity.

"Nobody knows there has been any violence," Winstead said. "There are some who think it is a hoax intended to get all this unfavorable publicity."

Oil Firm Slates More Study On Hancock Drilling

Humble Oil & Refining Co. of Oak Brook, Ill., said today it is unsure whether it will definitely drill test wells on a acreage leased for oil exploration in Hancock County.

E. S. Conway, area exploration manager for Humble's Central Region, said some seismic work has been completed in Hancock, where Humble has leased in excess of 10,000 acres.

"Our study of the area is in very early stages, and has not progressed to the point where we can state positively that exploratory wells will be drilled," Conway said.

There has been local speculation that Humble planned to sink two test wells in the near future in the North Hancock area. It has picked up leases on rural property mainly in Grant and Clay Districts, and also some in Butler District north of Weirton.

Atty. James Jordan of Chester and Ed Flowers of New Cumberland represented some of the property owners in Hancock in the property leases.

Area Man Fined In Muffler Case

An East Liverpool area man was among three drivers fined on traffic charges by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday.

Paul A. Lucas of East Liverpool R.D. 2, was fined $50 and costs for lack of a muffler. The judge suspended $40 of the fine.

John W. Burkie of Rogers R.D. 1, was fined $15 and costs for a defective muffler.

Ray Whinnery of Lisbon R.D. 4 was fined $20 and costs for speeding.

Forfeiting bonds were Samuel E. Fuller of East Palestine R.D. 1, $20 for driving left of center; Raymond O. Schafer of Pittsburgh, $63, and Clifford Ireland of Washington, Pa., $80, for overloaded trucks.

Forty-six attended a traffic school session at which a film was screened. The next will be July 30.

Human Relations Unit To Cancel 2 Meetings

The Community Relations Board, meeting Thursday night in Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office, agreed to skip its regular July and August sessions and meet again on Sept. 17.

Routine business was conducted in the session last night. The mayor presided. Eleven of the 12 members attended. The board was established by Council late in 1963 to investigate complaints of alleged discrimination because of race, creed or national origin.

the borough, especially those now in retirement or living on fixed income, or who own both commercial and domestic properties.

"This raise in property millage will undoubtedly create a hardship for these taxpayers."

"I recommend that an immediate meeting of Council and the Municipal Authority be arranged to discuss the possibility of free sewage to all domestic users."

"This should reduce the effect of the increased millage," Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, was instructed to contact the authority to arrange the conference.

In other business, the request of Rocco Stevenson, borough dog warden, for a pay increase of 20 per month was turned over to the finance committee for study and recommendation.

Council recommended that two-hour parking signs be placed on 6th St. between Beaver and Penn Aves., after Councilman Joe D'Alesio reported several complaints that area residents were unable to park near their homes because of long-period parking.

Corak pointed out that borough parking lots are free after 6 p. m. and that millworkers on the afternoon shift could park there, needing to pay only for the first couple of hours. He said many may not be aware of the free parking after 6.

Councilman Ray Presutti reported that the borough's summer work program employing students is in full swing, noting improvements in the Little League and softball fields, pavilions and playground areas.

He also suggested that the contractor on the Midland-Shippingport bridge be contacted to open it for traffic July 4 to help alleviate congestion during the celebration.

As chairman of the police committee, Presutti reported both new police cruisers had been received and checked out by Chief Ed Stefl and are now in operation.

Following the regular meeting, a discussion was held with Industry Council concerning the proposed annexation of the Sunrise Hills section of Industry by Midland.

William Vinovich, president, presided. Next meeting will be July 9.

It is hoped that a safe northern water route will help the Canadian North, whose mineral resources have scarcely been tapped.

Defendants Pay, City Court Drops 2 Cases On Tax

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered dismissal of two affidavits alleging violation of the city income tax ordinance after the defendants settled their accounts with the tax office and paid the court costs.

The defendants were Lee Reynolds, 2030 Michigan Ave., and Ernest Montgomery, 2130 Pennsylvania Ave., both accused of failure to file a final return on 1963 income and failure to furnish an estimate of 1964 earnings.

Both had been served with summonses ordering them to appear in court next Thursday. The charges were filed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Meanwhile, Jack Menough, 801 W. 9th St., failed to appear for a scheduled hearing this morning on a charge of violation of the same two sections of the tax ordinance. Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor was instructed by the court to investigate Menough's non-appearance.

Built-In Appalachia Program

State and federal officials now are pushing an Appalachia program to give the southern counties in Ohio a shot in the economic arm.
But we wonder why federal and state officials have not already taken advantage of a built-in project that would do much to boost the economy of counties in south-eastern Ohio.
The project is Interstate Route 77 — a superhighway that has been on the drawing boards for at least six to eight years.

FOR SOME reason, however, the state and federal governments have looked at I. R. 77 with wistful eye, continually keeping its priority in the state-federal highway program far behind other projects.
It is folly to believe that industry, tourist trade or those seeking recreation are going to flock to Guernsey, Noble and Washington counties — or the counties that adjoin them—unless and until motor-

Air Service Too 'Classy'

Airline users are continually confused by the multiplicity of classes of service offered by the many airlines and the rates involved with each class of service.
In the past we have had first-class, one-class, tourist, economy, thrift, coach, air bus and others.
Now United Air Lines has proposed three-class service aboard its jetliners. Perhaps this will be the magic formula which will bring some order to the confusion of rates. We hope so, but it's doubtful.
United is proposing first-class, standard and coach fares aboard its jetliners.
First-class will have two passengers seated on each side of the aisle. Standard will put two passengers on one side and three on the other. Coach will seat three passengers on each side of the aisle.
First-class will have deluxe meal and beverage service. Standard and coach will have complimentary meal and beverage service, with fewer trimmings.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:
First of all it should be stated that what follows in no way applies to you or me or anyone we know because we all know that our era has its own special problems and things are different now from what they were when pioneers traveled from Connecticut to, say, the Northwest Territory.
So here are this man and wife and children starting out from Connecticut for the Ohio country in the old days and the wife says, "I doubt if we ever make it in this old jalopy. It rattles and squeaks at every bump and you should have traded those nags in on new ones two years ago like I tried to tell you."
"The canvas on this old covered wagon is full of holes and acts like a sieve whenever it rains. And that team of horses hasn't the strength to get us across the Hudson River, much less over the hills to where you think you are going."
But the husband is determined to strike out as a pioneer in new country despite the probable hardships and he says, "Our wagon and team are only three years old. Right in the prime of life."
And she says, "Yes but those other people from here who went out to that new territory had all new equipment. Their wagon was brand new and their team of horses were yearlings. Why should we have to start such a hard trip without having as good equipment as they?"
The husband being the head of the household and arbiter of family law, the family started out for the then-western country in their three-year-old transportation despite the wife's admonitions.
They managed to get into the hills eventually but this was just the beginning of their troubles.

This Is Art?

"Pop" art leaves me cold.
I make no pretense of being an art critic simply because I happen to be a Sunday painter. But the subject of "pop" art is one on which almost anyone should qualify to comment.
I have no argument with abstract art. In fact, most of the abstract paintings I have seen I have enjoyed, some to a greater degree, some to a lesser degree.

Truman Twill is on Vacation
I am not one who feels compelled to know exactly what the artist had in mind when he created a particular artwork. I am of the school that believes that beauty is in the eye of the beholder. If an object appeals to me, I enjoy it because of the sensation it creates in me.

ADMITTEDLY, art has undergone many changes since man first attempted to preserve an idea or an experience on stone, bark or clay. One of the endearing qualities of art is that it is always changing.
"Pop" art is merely the latest of a long line of schools and perhaps it will prove to be an enduring one. But it arouses some questions in my mind.
Is a painting of row upon row of soup cans stacked on a grocery shelf really artistic? If it is, then is a supermarket really a museum of modern art with galleries of canned soups, canned fruits, canned vegetables, boxed cereals, bottled ists are provided with a better highway to get to those areas.

The existing U.S. 21, which will be replaced by I.R. 77, is a hilly, tortuous route and is a menace to the motorist.
But the new I.R. 77 would be a pleasure to drive over.
Not only will it open these areas to economic development, but when it is built it will prove to be a crucial link between the Port of Cleveland and the rich Ohio River Valley industrial empire.

WE CANNOT understand why federal and state officials have not recognized the crucial need for this highway and why they have not done more to expedite its construction.
It is our hope they will be more cognizant of the potential I.R. 77 offers not only for the economic development of the southern counties but for the boost it could give to the counties in central and northeastern Ohio, too.

When three-class service from Cleveland to Los Angeles begins Aug. 9, the fare will be $136.60 for first-class, $130 for standard and $123.40 for coach.
We hope the airlines someday will be able to reduce the various "classes of service" to a reasonable number to aid the confused passengers.

Pennsylvania's Milk

The Pennsylvania Milk Commission's latest directive, aimed at eliminating seasonal changes in milk prices, brings little cheer to either consumer or farmer.
Prices go up July 1 on quarts of milk—although savings are slated for consumers who buy by the half-gallon — while milk payments to the farmers are to decline.
There remains the need in Pennsylvania for an overall study of the milk pricing system and whether or not the commission is adequately serving the best interests of the public, the farmer and the dealers.

By Martin Miller

At various camp sites on this trip in the good old days the wife managed to say:
"You would have to stop for the night and keep me awake."
"And the water in the river is so hard I can't do a thing with my hair after I wash it. All the women I know always have soft water to wash their hair in, which is why their hair always looks better than mine."
Which prompts the husband to say, "We can't afford a soft-water rain barrel or I would get one. Besides, I like your hair the way it is."
"And the reason we camped here is because the sky looks stormy and this is in the lee of that hill and we would be protected if the wind rises."
So she says, "But why does our wagon have to be so bumpy? I rode with those other folks once and their wagon did not bounce like ours. That other woman told me they have special spokes on their wheels that bend with the bumps and her husband is especially careful in driving to choose the smoothest way."
Whereupon the husband replies, "Find out what kind of spokes they have in that other wagon and I'll be glad to get them. And any time you want that other woman to drive our wagon in hopes of a smoother ride you are welcome to get her as a driver."
And thus traveling ever westward the pioneers settled the new land. Despite all hardships.
You going anyplace on your vacation, Twill?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

soda pops, colorful housewares, ad infinitum?
Does a rectangle of canvas or plywood painted pure white or pure black or pure blue become a work of art because of the interplay of shadows upon it? If so, then should every painted rectangular form be regarded as art and the painter an artist?
Is the enlargement of an illustration for a toothpaste advertisement an appropriate subject for a home's dining room mural? If so, are all the weekly and monthly publications that carry pictorial advertisements purveyors of art rather than information or entertainment?

SUCH OBJECTS as described are selling for big prices in large numbers, so one could hardly deny that "pop" art has found a friendly audience.
But for my part, when I learn of, for instance, a stuffed mountain goat with an automobile tire wrapped around its midsection being exhibited as art, I get the feeling that someone is putting me on.
I wonder if the artist isn't laughing at his audience rather than with it.

Reflections

Bridges Linked To Hoffa Campaign

By Victor Riesel

Racing furiously to the rescue of Jimmy Hoffa is none other than Harry Bridges, champion, also, of Communist China, veteran devotee of the Soviet Union, and collaborator in past years with powerful international Stalinists.
Bridges, who is president of the Pacific Coast Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, (ILWU) flew into New York last week to whip up sentiment and money for his close friend and ally on the labor front, the embattled Hoffa, who is desperately attempting to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars for his legal defense against criminal charges.

Bridges, an old hand at fund raising, made his headquarters at the Hotel Abbey in crowded mid-town. From his room there he could — and did — foray into town unnoticed to confer with labor leaders.
THIS WAS a labor of love for Bridges, who rarely comes East from his home city of San Francisco. His mission was twofold — to raise money for the Teamsters chief and to win the support of Eastern union leaders for a new National Citizens Defense Committee for Hoffa, with whose union the Western longshoremen have a mutual assistance pact.

In some of the confidential talks Bridges disclosed that his union has been pounding at President Johnson to pressure the Justice Department to ease up on Hoffa.
West Coast dockers' units have been wiring the President for weeks now. Under Bridges guidance the theme of these protests is that Hoffa is being "framed" by the Justice Department in its effort to smash the Teamsters Brotherhood.
Bridges defense of Hoffa is the bluntest, toughest, most outspoken rallying to the high-tension Teamsters leader outside the truck drivers' organization itself.

THIS AFFINITY for Hoffa intrigues many insiders. In recent years Bridges has taken considerable time out from his union activity to push militantly left-wing causes. Much of his energy goes into the fight for the recognition of and the resumption of trade with Communist China.

A swift measure of his international ideological position is his description of Formosa, which the Pentagon now relies on as a vital Asian outpost, as a "rat hole." He refers to the Peking government as the Peoples' Republic of China.
Bridges is constantly whipping up letters and wires and promoting visits of his associates to Washington to lobby for such recognition. Relentlessly he urges his followers to pressure President Johnson into dispatching committees to Peking to pave the way for such an accord.
On South Viet Nam his agitation is just as strenuous and consistent. He demands the immediate pull-out of U.S. troops from that besieged country and argues for the neutralization of all of Southeast Asia.
OF COURSE, Jim Hoffa is aware of all this. Yet this intimate knowledge of Bridges' foreign policy position did not deter the Teamster from making his brotherhood and the Pacific Coast Longshoremen official allies.
Though Bridges and his union are not as well known to today's generation as they were two and three decades ago, Hoffa knows that the Western Longshoremen were ousted from the ranks of the old CIO for paralleling the pro-Communist line back in the '40s.

What, then, brings these men together? Insiders believe that if Hoffa is cleared of the charges in the current Chicago trial and if his jury-tampering conviction is reversed, he and Bridges will launch a new labor federation. It will be built around a transportation network made up of hundreds of thousands of Teamsters and the dockwallowing and warehouse units of Bridges' union, which reaches along the West Coast to Alaska and across to Hawaii, where it is now a powerful political force.
THEN THE TWO hope to link their federation with waterfront forces in the East. Fact is that last week Bridges took time out of his Hoffa defense drive to feel out New York labor officials. What he accomplished is still his secret.
But it's certain that Bridges and Hoffa are linked together in a stratagem for a national push on the labor front. All they need is to keep Hoffa out of prison. And Harry Bridges sure is trying.

Odd Facts

The first zoological garden in the United States was established in Philadelphia in 1874. Since that time nearly every large city in the nation has acquired a zoo. Among the largest are the celebrated Bronx Zoo and the Central Park Zoo in New York City, the Lincoln Park Zoo and the Brookfield Zoo in Chicago, and those in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Detroit, Kansas City, and San Diego.
Six Americans have won Nobel Prizes for literature since the inception of the awards in 1901. The first of these was Sinclair Lewis in 1931, and he was followed in 1936 by Eugene O'Neill, in 1938 by Pearl Buck, in 1949 by William Faulkner, in 1954 by Ernest Hemingway, and in 1962 by John Steinbeck.
The highest mountain in the Alps is Mont Blanc, at 15,781 feet. This is followed by Monte Rosa, at 15,200 feet, and the Matterhorn at 14,685 feet.

Support For Barry

By David Lawrence

His Stand On Rights Bill Unwittingly Justified

Sen. Barry Goldwater has just gotten some support from an unexpected quarter. Three members of the Supreme Court of the United States have unwittingly justified the viewpoint he expressed last week when he said that, as a matter of conviction, he couldn't vote for the civil David Lawrence rights bill because of his grave doubt about the constitutionality of the public accommodations provisions as they relate to state action.

Justices Black, Harlan and White of the high court rendered their opinion in connection with the release of 12 Negro students who participated in a sit-in demonstration at a restaurant in Baltimore in 1960. These justices took the position that there is no power under the 14th Amendment to compel a restaurant owner to serve those he does not wish to serve. Three other justices — Goldberg, Warren and Douglas — took the opposite position. The three remaining members — Justices Brennan, Stewart and Clark — handled the case without reference to constitutional questions, ruling simply that Maryland has passed another law since the arrests were made, and that the latest statute does not make it a trespassing offense to do what the students had done. Hence the result was no decision on the constitutional point.

THERE IS no question, however, about the grave doubts among some members of the court as to whether a restaurant owner can really be compelled against his wishes to serve anybody who comes into his restaurant, particularly if the 14th Amendment is used as a defense for "sit-in" demonstrations or acts of trespass on private property.
There is in the civil rights bill which passed the Senate, and is now pending in the House, a provision which would forbid restaurant owners to discriminate as between customers on the ground of race or color, but the phraseology is based on the supposed power of Congress to decide arbitrarily what "affects commerce" between the states. Many lawyers feel that the constitutionality of this provision also rests upon a very weak foundation.
The Supreme Court of the United States in 1883 held that the federal government could not, by invoking the 14th Amendment, compel either a restaurant owner or an innkeeper to serve everybody who applied and that his choice of customers is something he alone has a right to decide upon for his own reasons.

THE 1883 DECISION is today "the law of the land," and it is significant that Justices Black, Harlan and White feel that no state action is involved when the owner of a private business chooses to serve only customers he wants to serve. The three dissenting justices said:
"Businesses owned by private persons do not become agencies of the state because they are licensed; to hold that they do would be completely to negate all our private ownership concepts and practices. . . .
"Our duty is simply to interpret the Constitution, and in doing so the test of constitutionality is not whether a law is offensive to our conscience or to the 'good old common law,' but whether it is offensive to the Constitution.
"Confining ourselves to our constitutional duty to construe, not to rewrite or amend, the Constitution, we believe that Section I of the 14th Amendment does not bar Maryland from enforcing its trespass laws so long as it does so with impartiality. . . .
"Our sole conclusion is that Section I of the 14th Amendment, standing alone, does not prohibit privately owned restaurants from choosing their own customers. It does not destroy what has until very recently been universally recognized in this country as the unchallenged right of a man who owns a business to run the business in his own way so long as some valid regulatory statute does not tell him to do otherwise."

THE THREE justices denounced sit-ins that could lead to violence and added:
"Whatever power it may allow the states or grant to the Congress to regulate the use of private property, the Constitution does not confer upon any group the right to substitute rule by force for rule by law. Force leads to violence, violence to mob conflicts, and these to rule by the strongest group with control of the most deadly weapons."
Certainly, after a reading of the high court opinions of this week, one wonders why more members of Congress did not share with Sen. Goldwater the view that the legislation was not clearly constitutional and hence passage should not be risked.
Members of the Senate and the House take an oath of office to support the Constitution as it is today and not as they think it should be interpreted in the future by the Supreme Court or as the Constitution itself might some day be amended.

Kennedy Half-Dollars

Scarce Coins Used In Key Rings

WASHINGTON — Visitors to the United States Treasury are permitted to buy only one John F. Kennedy half-dollar per person, but the hard-to-get coins still turn up on sale in stores in such things as key rings.
If the public can't get the Kennedy half-dollars, how do the jewelry manufacturers get them?
"That, my friend, is a trade secret," said a New York costume jewelry maker who wouldn't even confirm that he sells such key rings, although one wholesaler said he did.

A TREASURY official said he had "no idea" where or how the jewelry people get the coins. "When we first shipped the Kennedy half-dollars," he said, "the Federal Reserve banks asked the member banks not to sell them in large quantities to dealers and collectors."
"But almost the next day," he added, "advertisements appeared in the newspapers with the Kennedy halves in key rings and the like."

"We tried to discourage it," the Treasury man said, "but I don't think you can stop it." Possibly, he said, some manufacturers who are good customers at certain banks prevail on the banks to yield extra coins when they receive them.
Few of the Kennedy half-dollars are in general circulation, although the Treasury is turning them out in great numbers. The original plan was to mint 90 million of the coins this year. Through May, the U.S. Mint had reached the 75 million mark. "But only one or two has turned up in the coin bags here," the Treasury official said.

It's "almost impossible" to stop people from getting more than their share, he said. At first, the Treasury limited its over-the-counter customers who walked in off the street to two Kennedy half-dollars per person. Because of the short supply, however, the ration was cut to one per customer.

ONE DAY, the official recalled, "about 30 kids came into the Treasury and lined up—that was when we allowed two—and each bought two Kennedy half-dollars. By golly, the leader with them took all the coins from the kids as soon as they left." The leader apparently had rounded up the kids on the street and had solicited their buying power with dimes or quarters.

The Treasury man said he doesn't have a Kennedy half-dollar himself. "We're out of them right now," he said, "but we expect to have some more in a few days."

This 'n That

Alligators in the past grew to be 18 feet long or even longer. But at present, few alligators can be found that have reached even a length of 12 feet. Male alligators from 11 to 12 feet long weigh between 450 and 550 pounds, while female alligators seldom measure more than nine feet long, or weigh more than 160 pounds.

Ohio Appalachia Plan

Backers Confident Of Cure, Confused On Treatment

By JOHN F. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Backers of economic aid for Ohio's 24-county Appalachia are confident of a cure but still confused on the treatment.

They agree, however, there will be plenty of medicine—Millions of dollars—and plenty of doctors—37 federal, state and private agencies at last count.

For Ohio and the nine other states—Kentucky, West Virginia, Maryland, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee—federal direction will come from the President's Appalachian Regional Commission.

The state's program—the Ohio Valley Region Development Plan—will have several bosses: The Southeast Ohio Valley Region Council, the Ohio Department of Development, Ohio University's Institute for Regional Development and private developers.

Much of the work will be done by the state's development department, author of Ohio's plan, and by an administrator, still to be picked, and a headquarters, still to be decided upon. Jackson, almost in dead center of the state's Appalachia, has been mentioned as a headquarters site.

Then there is Ohio University and its president, Vernon R. Alden, a community-conscious educator who has made Athens the "unofficial capital" of the state's Appalachia.

Alden is chairman of the executive committee of the Ohio Valley Region Council, chairman of President Johnson's task force to set up a federal job corps and is credited with persuading Gov. James A. Rhodes to put Ohio into the federal plan. In April, Ohio University established the Institute for Regional Development, got a $108,000 grant from the federal area redevelopment administration for its first year.

With both Ohio and the federal government shaping up their plans, here's how things stand now:

—State Development Director George Wilson has asked ARA for $350,000 to finance a study of Ohio's proposed superhighway—the Appalachian Way. Paul Quick, a Wilson aide, says the highway "is the very heart of the whole thing (Ohio's plan). And there is no money for it." The estimates for building the Appalachian Way range from $200 million to $300 million. The superhighway might be sneaked in under the federal government interstate plan. Wilson, in his request to ARA, suggested a toll as another possibility, but Quick says that's all it is—a possibility, not a probability.

—The Ohio Highway Department, which did not plan the superhighway, is watching and waiting. It has $500 million to spend, approved by voters in May.

—The state has scheduled $9.6 million from the $250 million bond issue approved last November for educational facilities in Ohio's Appalachia.

—The Ohio Valley Region Council has become permanent. The seven members of the original steering committee are now the executive committee and will make policy for Ohio's plan. They are: Alden, Alphon Christensen, Rio Grande College president; Frank Duddy, Marietta College president; Kenner Bush, assistant publisher of the Athens Messenger; B. B. Mills, Ironton Tribune publisher; James Stratford, Portsmouth plan. In April, Ohio University businessman, and E. E. Davis established the Institute for Southeastern Ohio Regional Conference, a non-profit development organization.

Still, the poverty label for Ohio's Appalachia, where median income is $1,000 above the Johnson administration's yardstick, bothers some Ohioans.

State Senate Leader C. Stanley Mechem, a Nelsonville Republican, says: "We don't need as much money to get along around here. The cost of living is lower... we're not really poverty stricken."

Missionaries To Talk At Hammondsville

The Rev. and Mrs. William Moon and family, who are on furlough from India, will be guests of the Hammondsville, Irondale and Pine Grove Methodist church Sunday at the Hammondsville church.

Ohio Convention Set For Ruritans

The fall convention of Ohio Ruritan Clubs will be held Nov. 7 with the Maple Ridge Club as host, it was announced Wednesday night at a meeting of lieutenant governors of the organization in Alliance.

Russ Burgess of Wakefield, W. Va., national president, will be principal speaker at the November session.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, past national president, reported at the Alliance meeting that 80 percent of all clubs contacted have made donations for the new national headquarters building in Dublin, Va. Ohio clubs have given $1,033, he added.

All lieutenant governors gave reports on the first six months of 1964. They included Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, reporting for Ohio Zone 8. It was announced a new club at Cadiz will be presented its charter in July by Ralph J. Schneider of North Georgetown, state Ruritan governor, and Richard Spiedel of Hanoverton, a member of the national Board of Directors.

The lieutenant governors' next meeting will be Sept. 9 at 6:30 p. m. in Alliance.

Deaths and Funerals

Ex-Craneman At Mill Taken

Ray F. Flint, 1709 Park Ave., who was a craneman for the former National Drown Division of the Crucible Steel Co., died this morning at 7:30 at City Hospital, after an illness of about 18 months. He was 60.

Mr. Flint was born in Washington County Jan. 1, 1904, and resided in this vicinity for 59 years. He worked for Crucible Steel for 28 years before retiring because of his health. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church and the Steelworkers Local 1212.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Clara L. Flint at home; two sons, Ray F. Flint Jr. of East Liverpool and Jerry W. Flint of South Bend, Ind.; five sisters, Mrs. E. C. (Stella) Harsha, Mrs. George (Lucy) Dunn, Mrs. Clyde (Hattie) Powell, Mrs. Kenneth (Luella) Myers and Miss Lottie Flint, all of East Liverpool, and five grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by Carl Stockdale, a layman of the church. Burial will be in Shadow Lawn Memory Gardens in Newell.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and night.

Hugh H. Thorn

Hugh H. Thorn, 83, of near Jamestown, Pa., a street car motorman in East Liverpool at one time, died Thursday at 11:30 a. m. at the home of a niece, Mrs. Dora Hamilton of Youngstown, following a long illness of cancer.

He had been visiting Mrs. Hamilton for several days.

He was born Nov. 3, 1880, in Palestine, W. Va., to Thomas H. Thorn and Clintilla Seaman Thorn, and had resided in Ash-tabula County for 28 years. He was married in 1902 to the former Winnie Cheuront, who survives at the home.

Other survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Dora Sheppard of Palestine and Mrs. Edwina Tompkins and Mrs. Violet King, both of Niles; a brother, Thomas Thorn of Ashtabula and one grandson and one great-grandson.

Services will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the Riverview Cemetery Chapel here.

Friends may call tonight at the Lane Funeral Home at Austintown, near Youngstown.

Mrs. Edith Williams

LISBON — Mrs. Edith Williams, 73, of Huntington, W. Va., former librarian at Huntington Public Library, died Thursday morning at her home.

Born in Huntington in 1891 to John R. Hall and Martha E. Page Hall, she spent her entire life there.

Her husband, Thomas C. Williams, was a druggist in Lisbon and Huntington, and died March 26, 1962.

Only a niece and a nephew survive.

Services will be held Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the Ellis-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening.

Hancock 4-H Program Set

A style review and announcement of winners in a safety poster contest will highlight the program of Hancock County 4-H Club members tonight at 8 at New Cumberland Junior High School.

The program climaxes the annual display of projects, submitted by the youngsters for scoring. About 300 projects are on exhibit, and may be viewed by the public tonight at 6:30.

Judges for girls' projects are Mrs. Mary Joan Peoples and Mrs. Ruth McPherson, county 4-H club agent, and for the boys, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, and Lester Miller.

Nine girls are to take part in the style review and winners will be named in wool and complete costume divisions, becoming eligible for the State 4-H Roundup Aug. 10-12 at Jackson Mills.

Mrs. Peoples will narrate the style review. James Arehart, county safety chairman, will announce winners in the poster contest on the theme, "Right Behind the Wheel."

Summer camp is slated July 6-10 for older members, and July 13-17 for younger members.

Beaver Doctor Dies

While At Convention

BEAVER FALLS — Dr. John A. Nave died of an apparent heart attack early this morning at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel in San Francisco, where he was attending the American Medical Association convention.

A physician here for 20 years, he discontinued practice two years ago to become full-time medical director of a hospital utilization project in Pittsburgh. He continued to make his home near here.

Farm Conservation Award Nominations Are Launched

LISBON — Nominations for a Columbiana County farmer for the 1964 county wildlife conservation award will be accepted the rest of this month, and anyone may submit the name of a candidate in a letter to Howard Adrian of Lisbon R. D. 3, county fish and game hearing chairman.

The award is presented annually in each Ohio county to a person who is making an outstanding contribution in providing hunting or fishing opportunities as a result of management decisions affecting at least 50 acres of private property.

James Kelly of Guilford Lake, county game protector, said the award will consist of a certificate from the Ohio Division of Wildlife and a one-year subscription to the Ohio Conservation Bulletin. Kelly listed the following examples of management practices as a guide in suggesting nominees:

(1) Maintain soil and water resources by using land within its capability and applying appropriate soil or water conservation practices to eliminate soil erosion and loss of fertility or runoff of needed water.

(2) Provide cover and space for reproduction, rearing, resting, escaping, traveling, roosting of game birds, denning by maintaining special plantings, protecting den trees, erecting nest or den boxes, leaving standing crops, adjusting mowing schedules, protecting woodlands from grazing or fire and construction brush shelters.

(3) Provide wildlife food during all seasons of the year by maintaining special plantings, leaving some crops standing, opening forest canopy and fertilizing a fish pond.

(4) Provide water by construction of lake, pond, marsh or waterhole and growing succulent plants.

(5) Provide recreational opportunities to a reasonable number of people by permitting them to harvest the surplus fish, fur and game animals.

(6) Avoid pollution of water or soil by using appropriate means of waste disposal.

The awards committee will be composed of a representative group of farmers, sportsmen and conservationists.

Kelley said letters of nomination must include name and address of person nominated, location and size of managed tract or private property, details of accomplishments to provide opportunities for hunting or fishing, and name and address of person submitting letter.

Salvation Army Girls Return After Camping

Eight Sunbeam Girls of the Salvation Army have returned from Camp Herrick, near Mentor. The overall attendance was 160.

Mrs. William Hathorn, major, accompanied the girls and served as a counselor and a member of the staff, assisting in worship services, campfire programs, and a class instructor in world knowledge.

Miss Beverly Hildebrand, a Senior Girl Guard, also from the local citadel, accompanied the girls and served as Mrs. Hathorn's assistant counselor.

Next group to attend the camp from the local corps will be 10 teen-age bandmen. They will leave July 16 for a 10-day session.

Dresden

Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

The mayor said the Highway Department's Division 11 office made the proposal to the city administration Monday for the improvement. Then a copy of the required "consent" ordinance was forwarded to East Liverpool from the New Philadelphia office, he said.

The mayor said he has not been advised of the date on which the state expects to begin the work. However, it probably will be in the near future because Highway Department officials sought Council's action on the enabling in a special session, the mayor said.

The Highway Department said it might be "too late" if Council's action waited until the next regular session, scheduled July 20, he added.

The city's share will be paid out of the so-called "state highway improvement fund," a branch of the street department appropriation. The fund is comprised of a percentage of the money the city receives each year from the state as its share of gasoline taxes and auto license revenues.

Ohio municipalities are required to spend a portion of the state-supplied revenue on thoroughfares that are part of the Ohio highway system.

Council President George E. Willshaw, in a caucus that preceded the regular session, asked why the state intended to resurface only 1,426 feet of Dresden Ave. inside the city limits and why the improvement would not stretch for the full length of the street — to the Diamond.

Vodrey explained that the stretch the state intends to resurface now is used as the path of U.S. Route 30 and State Route 7 through California Hollow. At the traffic light at the south end of the proposed improvement, Routes 7 and 30 switch to the new Freeway, so the stretch of Dresden Ave. from that point to the Diamond no longer is designated as a federal or state highway, he explained.

The inbound lanes of the Freeway from that point to Substation were opened last November. But because of construction and drainage difficulties that still are being corrected by the contractor, the outbound lanes never have been opened. Outbound traffic follows "the new Freeway as far as the traffic signal, then switches onto old Dresden Ave. The balance of the outbound stretch is due for opening in late July.

Willshaw commented that he could see no real need for resurfacing much of the Dresden Ave. stretch, particularly a three-lane segment built only a few years ago.

"There are many other streets in much worse need of resurfacing, including Route 267 (Lisbon St.)," the Council president said.

Councilman William Davis was excused from the special session. Affirmative votes were cast on the legislation by the six other members — Councilmen Floyd Murray, James Cunningham, Donald Smith, Norman Bucher, Robert W. Sample Jr. and Donald Hancock.

Class Reunion Group Closes Out Business

The planning committee for the East Liverpool High School 1934 class reunion held its final meeting Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Ralph Musuraca of St. Clair Ave.

Individual class brochures were addressed and mailed to out-of-town members who were unable to attend the reunion held June 13 at The Willows in Industry.

Local members may contact any committee member for the brochures.

Donald Skidmore gave the final financial report.

Mrs. Musuraca will be chairman of the planning committee for the 1969 reunion.

County Will Receive Funds As Drought Aid

Columbiana and Jefferson are among 37 Ohio counties due to share $372,000 of the $2.61 million in drought emergency funds the U. S. Agriculture Department is making available to farmers.

The department at Washington announced Thursday the funds for farmers in 235 drought-affected counties of Ohio, Alabama, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

The funds, to help farmers re-establish vegetative ground cover, will be distributed by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee in each state.

Jury Frees Windham Man On Tire Larceny

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury deliberated over two hours Thursday in acquitting William Buckholtz of Windham, on charges of larceny by trick in securing two truck tires, tubes and wheels from the Interstate Truck Stop, east of Columbiana, last March.

He was indicted earlier this month by the recalled April Grand Jury.

The trial began Wednesday before Judge Joel H. Sharp and this was the last for the jury during the summer.

The other four defendants indicted by recalled Grand Jury have pleaded guilty and requested probation.

The U. S. invaded North Africa in November of 1942 during World War II.

Massive Fish Kill Observed In Area Ohio River Stretch

The Ohio River was experiencing another massive "fish kill" today, invoking pangs of frustration among the anglers and boaters.

Reports showed the stream filled with dead fish, mostly shad and carp ranging in size from one to six inches, for at least 34 miles along both shores.

A spokesman at Montgomery Dam said the dead minnows are thickest — and smelliest — in the Conway-Baden area.

The dead fish apparently floated downstream to this area overnight, as they were spotted today along the shore by several fishermen, including R. M. Whittington of 92 Grant St., Newell, and Lonnie Simmons, also of Newell.

Whittington said he saw hundreds and hundreds of dead fish lying on the West Virginia shore today between 1st St. and 2nd St. in Newell. Simmons advised Whittington that the dead fish also have drifted as far south as New Cumberland.

It is 34 miles between New Cumberland and the Conway-Baden area, and the white bellies are everywhere in the river between those two points, it was indicated by reports.

Although no cause of the fish kill was ventured, one fisherman pointed out there is a large concentration of steel mills in the area upstream where the dead fish appear thickest.

Officers Installed By Midland Lions

Jack Haggerty was installed as president of the Midland Lions Club at a dinner meeting Thursday night at Deramo's Restaurant.

Haggerty, who succeeds George Baacke, and other officers were installed by Abe Cazen of Rochester, zone chairman, who substituted for Ware Shanor, international counselor.

The new president announced the July and August meetings will be held at the club pavilion. Members will work Sunday on the float for the July 4th parade, Haggerty reported.

Continuance Stated For 2 Patrol Charges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered continuances until Monday in two cases involving arrests made by the State Highway Patrol.

The defendants are Anthony Grande, 1145 Esther Ave., Wellsville, cited Tuesday on Route 7 for alleged illegal use of a license tag meant for a farm vehicle, and C. E. Tindell of Darlington, arrested Wednesday on a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, also on Route 7.

The court granted Grande a continuance until Monday to allow the defendant to obtain a new license plate for his truck.

Motorists Uninjured In Lisbon Area Crash

Neither driver was injured in a collision of two autos on Route 30 about two miles south of Lisbon Thursday at 5:35 p.m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Alice Reynolds of Lisbon was headed north in a 1953 sedan and Rufus Alford, 27, of Clairton was driving south in a 1964 coupe when the woman turned into the left lane and her auto collided with the other, officers said.

The mishap still is under investigation, the patrol said.

Rainfall will average only about one-tenth of an inch as widely scattered showers early next week, becoming more numerous mid-week.

Rare Lithographs Of Indians Put On Display In Library

A rare collection of original lithographs of Indians has been loaned by a city man to the Carnegie Public Library for display.

Apparently published some 130 years ago, the lithographs show exceptional color and fine detail in the 27 sketches, primarily of tribal chiefs, owned by Richard Capehart.

Capehart said he was given the lithographs by a friend over the last two months and expects to acquire 27 more. He has refused several offers.

Not too many of the original lithographs can be found in this country, Capehart said, explaining that hatred for the Indians was so great at the time they were published that most were acquired by European collectors.

Congress sent two or three artists into the West to make oil paintings of the Indian personalities as they were. The original paintings were destroyed when an old wing of the Smithsonian Institute burned.

The lithographs were published by special acts of Congress between 1833 and 1838.

The artists are identified on the lithographs as C. B. King and A. Newsam while a third merely initialed his work "A. H."

E. C. Biddle and F. W. Greenough were listed as the publishers while the lithographers are identified as Lehman & Duval and "L. T. Bowen's lithographic establishment."

One of the portraits shows Red Jacket, Seneca war chief, wearing a large medal inscribed "George Washington and Red Jacket, 1782." Another lithograph is of Thayendanegea, "Great Captain of the Six Nations."

There also are portraits of a

Flat-Head Boy, Ojibway and Osage women, chiefs of the Mus- quaque, Ioway, Sioux, Cherokee, Shawnee, Osage, Pottow- atomie Creek, Fox and "chief of the Sacs and Foxes" along with some of Chippewa and Charlatan warriors.

H. B. Barth, curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society museum, said he was told by Dr. John Swager, archeologist at Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, the lithographs were rare, particularly in the large size.

Smaller lithographs have appeared in some books on Indian lore, Barth was told.

Miss Arlene Faye Martin And Robert Canton Wed

Attired in a white ballerina-length Chantilly lace gown, Miss Arlene Faye Martin became the bride of Robert K. Canton the morning of June 13 at 11 o'clock at St. Ann's Catholic Church in East End.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Martin, 1580 Holliday St., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Canton, 1968 Michigan Ave.

Fr. Thomas Beldue performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palm s. ferns and vases of mums. Large velvet bows marked the pews occupied by the immediate families. Music was played by Miss Kay Hocking, church organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was styled with a scalloped neckline, long - pointed sleeves and a taffeta lined full skirt, featuring net pleats in the front and a nylon net underskirt. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a queen's crown of pearls and crystals.

She carried a prayer book topped with orchids and streamers and tied with lover's knots and petals of carnations. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. David Watkins, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and she was attired in an aqua blue lace dress with matching accessories and wore pearl earrings and necklace, a gift of the bride. She carried a bouquet of aqua and white carnations with satin streamers.

The bride's mother wore an aqua blue jersey three - piece suit with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a rose lace dress with white accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

AMA SEAL OF ACCEPTANCE ABANDONED IN 1955

Q. A house-to-house saleslady recently stated that her company's cosmetics were "approved by the American Medical Association." Does the AMA grant such approval?

A. No. In 1955 the American Medical Association announced that the evaluation of individual drugs, foods, devices and cosmetics, and bestowing the seal of acceptance on such products had been abandoned in favor of judging evidence of the general value of groups or classes of products. For example, a short time ago the AMA expressed an opinion regarding face creams containing hormones, but made no mention of specific brands of hormone creams.

INJECTION TREATMENT FOR HERNIA

Q. I know several people who have had expensive hernia operations. I understand that injection treatment is cheaper (no hospital) and just as satisfactory. Is this true?

A. Many doctors contend that the injection treatment of hernia has not withstood the test of time. For one thing, hernias treated in this manner tend to recur in far too many cases. While injection treatment might avoid hospitalization, and thus be cheaper than surgery, this factor alone would be unimportant if the hernia is not cured. In any case, the method of treatment should be the choice of your physician.

The true measure of the worth of prescribed medicine lies not in dollars and cents, but in the faster relief from pain and speedier recovery it provides.

Women Of Oak Ridge Will Send Youth To Camp

The Women's Association of the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church near Wellsville made plans to sponsor a youth at the Beaver Creek camp late in August when it met Wednesday night in the social rooms.

Mrs. Martha Serafy, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Mrs. Marie Wallace, president, who is ill. She also offered prayer and was in charge of the program on the theme, "Medical Missions - Social Education and Action". Mrs. Mildred Wallace read Col. 3:11-15. Mrs. Georgeann Frischkorn, Mrs. Sally Duck and Mrs. Frances Poynter read a letter, "A Service of Significance," containing excerpts from letters of missionaries overseas.

Mrs. Kathryn McCollam read a letter concerning schools in India and other Far East countries. Mrs. Frances Poynter showed members a letter of thanks for clothing sent to Stanton, Ky., at Christmastime. Silent prayer was offered for Janet Carroll and Bonnie Brandt, who are recovering from tonsillectomies. The Bible study was opened with prayer by Mrs. Ruth Frischkorn, the leader. She used "Men Made Alive" as her topic, read Col. 2:5-23 and closed with prayer. Cards were signed for the shutins and thank-you notes were recognized. Miss Judy Dornick was a guest.

Lunch was served 14 by Mrs. Elizabeth Wellington, assisted by Mrs. Edith Peterson. Mrs. Edith McCollam gave thanks.

Dames Of Malta Dinner Marks 43rd Anniversary

The 43rd anniversary dinner of Tri-State Sisterhood 199, Dames of Malta, was celebrated Wednesday night at the Sons of Veterans Hall, honoring Mrs. Helen Hall, deputy, who is also a three-year trustee in the Zena-docia.

Other honored guests included Mrs. Esther Davis, sovereign protector, and Mrs. Helen Murphy, past sovereign protector, both of Etna, Pa.; Mrs. Ann J. Fairgrieve of Pittsburgh, past sovereign protector, and Mrs. Margaret Datwyler of Steubenville, a past protector.

Guests were presented with handkerchiefs centered with cash gift resembling a rose corsage. The corsages were made by Mrs. Margaret Allison of Chester.

The cross-shaped tables decorated in the lodge colors, gold and purple, featured vases of cut garden flowers, provided by Mrs. Donald Thompson. A large sheet cake, provided by Mrs. Hall, also in the lodge colors with the inscription, "43rd Anniversary," centered the table.

The dinner committee was comprised of Mrs. Victoria Willis, chairman, Mrs. Ola Weaver and Mrs. Evelyn Chesnut.

The meeting opened with an officers' drill with Mrs. Weaver in the Queen Esther chair and Mrs. Sylvia McDonald in the Ruth Chair.

Report on those ailing included Mrs. Jennie McCarty and Mrs. Alberta Carothers, who are recuperating in rest homes.

The penny drill was donated to Mrs. Davis's project of aiding the blind and retarded.

Beaver Rural Garden Club Enrolls 2 New Members

Mrs. Louise Shaffer and Mrs. Genevieve Weber were welcomed as new members when the Beaver Rural Garden Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Betty Holden of Echo Dell Rd.

Mrs. Norene Andreatta, president, presided for business. Various reports were presented. Mrs. Marg Rabon, Mrs. Emma Bomberger and the president presented highlights of a tour at the "Brick Row" in Hanoverton June 17, sponsored by the Town and Country Garden Club of Hanoverton.

They told of the many antiques in the four brick homes. Several of the homes are over 140 years old.

The president also reported on

Sen. Goldwater's Daughter To Wed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, top contender for the Republican presidential nomination, settled down in his Arizona hilltop home today to make the transformation from politician to father of the bride.

Goldwater's youngest daughter, Margaret Ann, 20, will marry Richard Arlen Holt, 26, of Beverly Hills, Calif., Saturday night at the Phoenix Trinity Episcopal Cathedral.

The Arizona senator made two speeches in his home state Thursday, then ducked out of the spotlight.

In Nogales, Ariz., Goldwater told an American Legion convention that he hated to cut his visit there short, but that he had to get home for a "meeting of the clan."

A dinner was scheduled for tonight.

Miss Goldwater, better known as Peggy, will be given away by her father at the 11-minute ceremony.

Her husband-to-be is a junior executive with an oil company. The newlyweds plan to honeymoon in Hawaii and then make their home in Beverly Hills.

Bonnie Blackhurst Of Lisbon Will Be Bride Of J. E. Smith

Mrs. Jane Pastore Blackhurst of W. Maple St., Lisbon, announces the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Miss Bonnie Blackhurst, to James Earl Smith, son of Mrs. Eileen Ewing Smith of W. Chestnut St., and the late Earl Smith. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Frederick Blackhurst of East Liverpool.

The open church wedding will take place Saturday, July 4, at 10 a.m. at St. Columba's Cathedral in Youngstown. Fr. Paul C. McNally, formerly of St. George's Catholic Church of Lisbon, now of Youngstown, will officiate at the Nuptial Mass.

An open reception will be held at St. George's Parish Hall of Lisbon from 2 to 5 p.m.

Church Class Meets

Twelve members of the Fellowship Class of the First Christian Church met Wednesday evening at the Morgan House, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCannon and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith hosts and hostesses.

Plans were made for the entertainment for the annual church picnic, July 15 at Firestone Park. The class will be in charge.

Purchase of folding chairs for the classroom was approved.

A family picnic and swimming party will be held Aug. 30.

Mrs. Iona Wisler of Columbiana, district deputy president, was the inspecting officer of Caldwell Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening at the lodge hall with Mrs. Robert Laughlin, noble grand, presiding.

Bible In Decorations

Symbolic decorations, an open Bible, single candle and a rose, were placed before the noble grand's station by Mrs. Tom Pike and Mrs. Laughlin.

A report of the Ohio Assembly held in Cleveland in April was given by Mrs. Irene Hum of Columbiana, district representative.

Guests from Salem, Columbiana, East Palestine and Leetonia were among 50 persons present for the final meeting of the summer. Mrs. Raney McCullough was chairman of the lunch committee.

Next meeting is Sept. 9.

Members of the 20th Century Club dined at the Town and Country Smorgasbord at Canton Thursday evening.

Summer plans for the club will be announced later.

Picnic Dinner Given

Kardenso Club members were guests of Mrs. Edgar Kirk of Thomas Rd. Wednesday evening for a picnic dinner and social time.

The club will meet once a month during the summer for picnics.

The Wednesday Evening Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Francis Gunn of W. Lincoln Way.

Mrs. George Yost and Miss Gladys Loudon won prizes.

Mrs. Victor Williams of S. Lincoln Ave. will be hostess July 15.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Vacations Needed By Entire Family

It's wonderful when whole families have a summer outing together, whether on a motor tour or several weeks in the woods or by the seaside. But those of us who may enjoy a summer vacation little realize how many other children and parents, especially in crowded city areas, never get away from home. Some organizations in large cities finance a summer outing of several weeks for underprivileged children. This experience gives them a wholly new outlook on life as well as great enjoyment. Occasionally, rural families have volunteered to take into their homes a few of these children for several weeks.

you go with your family this summer on such visits, please consider the mother or grandmother who is your hostess. Try to make the visit enjoyable for her, too.

Then there's many a hard-working father who gets away from home for several weeks on a hunting or fishing trip, leaving the mother home. These fathers may get a much-needed rest away from home and family cares, but I wish they also felt concern about the similar needs of the mother who gets no such outing.

Various churches and other community organizations have provided summer camps for mothers. It's a development in the right direction and should be put into practice on a large scale.

Some parents send one or more children from their city homes to spend the summer with grandparents. Often it seems to work out well.

IN DENMARK a few years ago, I learned of a fine extensive practice among parents in rural areas of volunteering to take one or more underprivileged city children into their homes for the summer. I happened to see some of these children in farm homes. They seemed very happy and the host family expressed pleasure in having these children.

In the War on Poverty Program in this country, such outings for underprivileged children could be conducted on a broad basis.

Nor should the mothers in the depressed areas be overlooked. They need to get away from their crowded homes, too. Some day, whole families from the less privileged areas will be sent together to open areas for a summer period.

We also need to keep in mind the mother of the average family that does go on summer vacation. All too often the mother with one or more young children going on a motor trip with the family or visiting with friends or relatives finds the experience more wearing than if she had stayed home.

NOR SHOULD we forget the mother or grandmother at the home of relatives or friends which a family visits. Often they are heavily burdened in the summer with such guests. If

Program Staged On Anniversary Of K. Of C. Unit

One hundred members and friends attended a dinner and program Thursday night at Meade's Restaurant in Wells-ville marking the 36th anniversary of Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Guest speaker was Timothy J. Kelleher Jr., past faithful navigator of Fr. Edward Conlan Assembly of Alliance.

A memorial chalice was presented to Fr. John P. Cunningham, an assistant pastor at St. Aloisius Catholic Church and faithful friar of the assembly, in memory of James M. Duffy, who died in 1963. Fr. Cunningham represented Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Diocese, who will be given the chalice for use in the diocese.

The presentation was made by Francis Schlueter, faithful navigator. He also presented past navigator's pins to John LaScola and Joseph J. O'Hanlon.

Other guests included Fr. William Hohman of Lisbon, Fr. Frederick Anzavino of Summitville, Fr. Gerald Curran of Wellsville, Fr. Donald DeCarlo of East Liverpool, Fr. Eugene Jacobs of Chester and Ronald Zidian of Washington, a seminarian.

World's Fair Outlined At Meeting Of Kiwanis

A description of the New World's Fair and the methods of going to the fair comprised the program presented by Jud English at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

English, representative of the Columbiana County Motor Club, said New York has had an influx of 48,000 additional cars daily as a result of the fair, and outlined means of going to the grounds.

Colored slides of the exhibits and grounds were screened, with Paul Blair serving as narrator.

Get A New Point Of View On Social Calories

A young lady of 25, concerned about her weight, asks how she can stay on her diet when to decline refreshments would offend her friends and family.

She writes: "My problem is how to politely avoid fattening refreshments. When a dieter says 'no thank you' to the hostess when offered a big piece of cake, the people near will inquire, 'Are you on a diet?' Or they'll say, 'You don't need to lose weight.' When such comments are made to me, I feel embarrassed, and most of the time I'll eat the cake even though I'm trying to reduce."

"ALSO, when I go home my mother has luscious cakes and cookies that I really can't avoid eating most of the time. I'm anxious to read some kind of an answer as to how to avoid fattening foods in such situations."

Let's take a refreshing attitude toward the whole subject of social calories. Today it seems that everybody talks about calories and diets. So why be disturbed when someone asks if you are on a diet? Give it the light touch and reply, "Well, I'm trying." Then quickly follow with some interesting news to change the conversational trend.

Recognize that bit about "you don't need to lose weight," as a sort of stock answer, uttered out of politeness or merely from habit.

Supposing you were to reply with genuine enthusiasm, "Yes, I am on a diet, and I feel wonderful!" This unexpected reaction will perhaps bring forth a compliment.

The very next time you are going to a social function, try this plan: Spend extra time on your appearance, select your most slimming dress, and stand in elegant posture. This helps you to look and feel slimmer. Someone is sure to ask, "Aren't you slimmer?" Your spirit will soar. Suddenly it's all worth it!

WHAT TO DO about the cookies at home? Ask your mother to cooperate and hide the cookies!

Once you get over the outmoded notion that it is a breach of etiquette to decline offered food, you'll be set free. A polite "no thank you" to food or drink shouldn't even cause a stir. Pay your hostess the subtle compliment of assuming that she will be completely understanding. As for the usual trite comments from all others, gaily turn them off. Be a decisive person in your own right. Know what you want, and live your life joyously!

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Part of Africa Stands as a Museum Memorial
To Carl Akeley, Who Loved the Dark Continent

Carl Akeley demonstrates camera which he invented to photograph fast-moving animals.

Natives of Uasin Gishu, a plateau of Kenya, approach a lion they speared for Carl E. Akeley, who had conceived the idea of a hall of mammals.

A gorilla rises to full stature in the Akeley Memorial Hall of African Mammals against the painted background of the Congo's Mt. Mikeno.

Wildlife can be dangerous. Akeley bagged this leopard, but not before it mauled him.

The explorer poses with a lioness which had expired for the museum.

This is the African wilderness as it was for a pack of lions, now preserved for posterity at the museum.

An elephant masterpiece, The Alarm, resulted from Akeley's work. The giant bull raises his trunk to scent danger as a young male wheels around to the rear, acting as a guard for the threatened herd.

King Features Syndicate

THE AFRICAN WILDS, vanishing under the impact of the 20th century, occupy a small corner of Manhattan. The corner's existence is a tribute to the late Carl E. Akeley, conservationist, explorer, inventor, sculptor and taxidermist.

A safari to the American Museum of Natural History in New York leads to the Akeley Memorial Hall of African Mammals. Animals are frozen in life-like stillness against scenes of grassland and jungle which are masterpieces of authenticity. Standing in the quiet hall, a visitor easily imagines that a poised beast's sides are moving with breath; that his eyes have flickered; that the stillness is unreal. This is wild life as Akeley saw it during a lifetime which began 100 years ago in upstate New York and ended in 1926 on his fifth expedition to Africa.

"I should have been a farmer," Akeley was fond of saying, "but for some reason or other, I was always more interested in birds and chipmunks."

At 13, the budding wildlife lover borrowed a book on taxidermy and the volume shaped his future. To the art of taxidermy, he added a quest for reality that led him to Africa. Akeley formulated plans for the African Hall in 1909 while on an expedition for the American Museum. The hall did not become a reality until after his death, but he caught the animals and devised the settings and mountings.

Akeley is credited with inventing one of the best wildlife cameras for photographing gorillas in the dense, dark Congo forest. His fight to save the gorilla from extinction influenced King Albert of Belgium to set up Central Africa's first wild life sanctuary.

When death came, Akeley was deep in the Congo. He was buried on Mt. Mikeno, which he had known as "the most beautiful place in the world."

Akeley stands with an elephant skull and tusks he brought back from Africa for his group of pachyderms.

TV Producers Taking Second Look

After the second season of any TV series, the producer huddles with his writers to see what can be done about "opening up" the characters.

This means it finally has occurred to the producer that he has filmed 60 shows or more and that his hero has done the same thing Hal Humphrey in each one, like operating on malignant tumors or defending suspected wife murderers.

To "open up" the lead character or characters in a weekly series, a writer usually suggests the hero have a little romantic fling.

Young Dr. Kildare, for example, has forgotten his Hippocratic oath a couple of times the past season because he got so involved with beautiful girl-type patients.

Even steady old Dr. Gillespie was found cutting a caper with a wealthy widow (Joan Blondell) a few weeks ago.

ROBERT REED, the son and junior partner of TV's law firm "The Defenders," says it looks as if he will be doing a little "opening up" next season.

"They've been looking for a girl friend for some time," Reed confides. "June Harding will be in two episodes, and if I had my way we would keep her. She has the talent to give some depth to pretty silly lines."

"I don't know why, but most of the dialogue written for boy-girl situations is awfully spooky."

He says he doesn't know yet if June is to be actually involved in the plots. Maybe viewers will just see him meeting her for lunch and a stroll through the Metropolitan Museum.

There were a half-dozen or so of "The Defenders" during the first two seasons (series is winding up its third season now) which had Joan Hackett playing Reed's girl friend. Joan later was cast in a Broadway show and got too busy to be a part-time foil in "The Defenders."

"We also became so wound up in problem shows, there was no time for girl-friend scenes," says Reed, rather wistfully.

WRITERS GENERALLY resent the intrusion of girl friends and other part-time characters into a series. They have to find ways to drag them into the plots, especially if the girl has a contract calling for a minimum number of appearances.

Jeanne Bal, who has been playing the assistant principal in "Mr. Novak," quit the series for next season when the producer wanted to cut her down to six out of each 12 shows.

Sometimes the stars of a series resent these semi-regulars for professional jealousy reasons. Reed says this is not so with him and E. G. Marshall, the senior member of "The Defenders."

"We need a change of pace to take us out of the law practice occasionally, or at least change the scene," says Reed. "E. G. and I have even dreamed about our taking an ocean liner to Europe. Of course, while there we could be guest lawyers, say, in London. It at least would give us a chance to put on powdered wigs."

REED HAS suggested to the producer that they play a kind of "One Man's Family" for a week, letting the viewers see that he and Marshall have a home life and friends.

Both Reed and Marshall are Gilbert & Sullivan enthusiasts, and during rehearsal breaks they will join each other in a few verses from one of the G & S operettas.

"We do 'A Policeman's Lot Is Not a Happy One' quite well together, and I think it would be fun to let us do it in one of the shows. It could be worked in, I think."

"Have you suggested this to the producer?" "I believe we did once, and he mumbled something about its being one way to get 30 million people to turn off their sets," recalls Reed.

In Vote Board Report

The County Election Board Thursday certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown the name of James V. Flasco of Idaho Ave. as the only candidate in the primaries May 5 who failed to report campaign expenditures as required by the so-called "corrupt practices act."

Flasco, a former chairman of the city Democratic Central Committee, was defeated in a three-way race for his party's county committee post in Precinct 4-H. As an opposed candidate for a central committee post, he was required to file a report, whether or not he actually spent any money on the campaign. The deadline for the reports was June 19.

Flasco's name also was certified to Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw, as required by law, "for his information and any legal action he deems necessary," according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board.

Held In Shooting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Edna DeVaughn, 32, of Dayton was being held today for investigation of homicide in the fatal shooting of her estranged husband, Samuel, 35. Police said DeVaughn was shot last night when he returned to Mrs. DeVaughn's home 15 minutes after police, at her request, had ordered him to leave.

Area Jaycees Map Activity

The program for the coming year was outlined at a District 20 Junior Chamber of Commerce President's Council session Wednesday night at the home of Robert Lewis of N. Shady Ln., Fisher Park.

Lewis is the state vice president in charge of the district, which covers Columbiana and Jefferson Counties.

Dale Kidd, president of the East Liverpool Jaycees, and Nunzio Lombardozzi, a vice president from Wellsville Jaycees, attended along with presidents from Salem, Lisbon and Steubenville.

Bids were let for hosting district membership meetings. East Liverpool will host the first session.

Plans were announced for a district caucus at the next All-state meeting July 25-26 at Euclid.

Plans also were made for the district bidding on a regional meeting in the spring.

Auto Injures City Man, 37

A 37-year-old Beechwood man escaped with minor injuries Thursday at 5:29 p. m. when bumped by an auto while on Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

Timmy Estell, 181 Center St., was released after treatment at City Hospital for minor abrasions of both elbows and a finger.

Officers said he was struck by a westbound 1961 model station wagon driven by Lawrence Madden, 43, of 823 Dewey Ave.

Madden told Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes he saw the pedestrian in the street and applied his brakes and swerved, but it was too late to avoid striking Estell. The pedestrian was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Three autos were damaged slightly in another East End mishap at virtually the same time. It was timed at 5:30, also on Pennsylvania Ave.

The collision involved a 1954 four-door sedan driven by Clyde McGaffie, 35, of 817 Orchard Grove Ave., a 1953 four-door sedan operated by Robert L. Boston, 46, of 2225 Harvey Ave. and a 1964 model pickup driven by Roy A. Dray, 1830 Michigan Ave.

The autos of McGaffie and Boston were halted in a line of traffic when Dray's pickup hit the rear of Boston's vehicle and shoved it forward into the rear of McGaffie's, police said.

There was damage to the rear of McGaffie's car, the front of Dray's truck and both the front and the rear of Boston's car, officers said. But the damage was described as "very minor" in all cases.

Cadets And Families Taken On Plane Rides

Twenty cadets of the Wellsville Civil Air Patrol and members of their families were taken on plane rides Wednesday night at Herron Airport near Pughtown.

The pilots were Vaughn McMorrow of Wellsville, chief warrant officer, and Earl Herron, owner of the airport. Herron flew a Piper Cherokee which the squadron plans to acquire.

Several promotions have been approved and a ceremony will be held in the near future to advance the cadets. The unit meets again next Wednesday night at 7 at Daw Junior High School.

Frisky Young Steer Leads Big Stampede

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A frisky young steer led the big stampede through Mockingbird Valley Thursday night.

The hour-long chase by several policemen and 50 stick-waving residents from a golf course and onto suburban streets ended with a Western-style roping.

Then the 650-pound animal shook free and led the gang on a 90-minute romp before he was captured again.

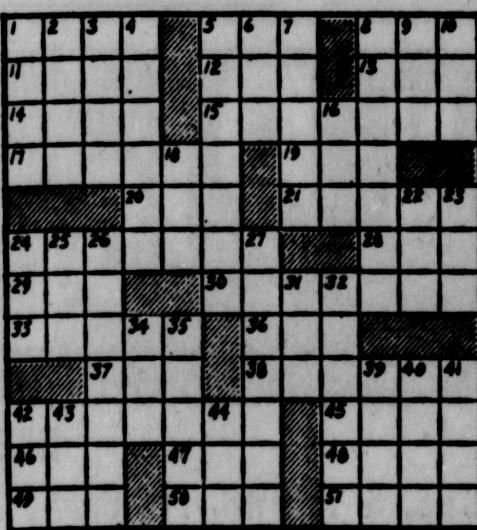

Owner Kenneth Dennis of Louisville said the animal had jumped a fence to get away.

Camp Fire Girl Recreation To Be Held On 2 Days

The second week of organized recreation for Camp Fire Girls, 7 through 17 years of age, will be held Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville. About 50 attended this week's session.

The four - week program, which is being sponsored by the program committee of the East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls Inc., is under the direction of Miss Cindy Calcott. The schedule includes, arts and crafts, sports, games, music and folk dancing.

No fee is charged for the weekly sessions but each girl must provide her transportation and lunch.

A highlight of Tuesday's program will be a "water fun," weather permitting. Girls who wish to participate are to bring their bathing suits and towels, Miss Calcott said.

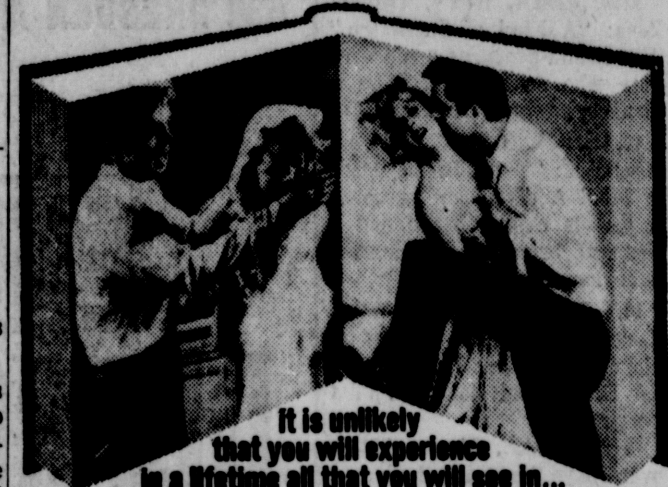

Mrs. H. Fred Banfield and Mrs. Frank Dawson Jr., are program co-chairmen and Mrs. Dan C. Henderson is administrative secretary.

Methodist Delegates Okay Jurisdictional Merger Plan

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Delegates at the North-East Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church unanimously have approved a plan to transfer all Negro control jurisdiction churches into the predominantly white geographical conferences and jurisdictions of the denomination.

Delegates, meeting at this Lake Erie resort community, voted 654 to 0 Thursday for the merger previously approved by the sister Ohio Conference and the Lexington (Negro) Conference.

Church leaders termed the delegates' approval of a resolution banning bias as a giant step toward integrating the denomination. The resolution put the North-East Conference on record as committing itself to the "elimination of all forms of racial segregation and discrimination in the Methodist Church."

The proposed merger plan will be submitted for final adoption to the North-Central Jurisdictional Conference in Cleveland July 8-12. Approval of the consolidation plan will result in the Negro Methodist churches and congregations located geographically within the North-East Ohio Conference becoming members of that conference.

The denomination now has 20 Negro churches with 6,000 members located within the North-East Ohio Conference. The church is now divided administratively into five geographical jurisdictions with the sixth grouping, the central jurisdiction, containing 90 per cent or 373,000 of Methodism's more than 400,000 Negro members in the country.

In other action, the delegates agreed to receive a Negro bishop and called upon the jurisdictional conference to make its assignment of an episcopal leader for the Ohio area without regard to race.

The Arctic Circle begins in North Latitude 66 degrees, 30 minutes.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Crane —

DEAR HELOISE: Now is the time to enjoy eating corn on the cob. I have found that adding equal amounts of sugar and salt to the melted butter, or sprinkling sugar and salt over the buttered ear of corn, gives it a just-picked flavor.

As you know, corn starts to lose its sweetness just as soon as it is picked. Try it this way and I'm sure you will like it.

CORN FED SAL.

DEAR SAL: You are exactly right. Sugar is good on corn. Have you ever tried the Texas way of cooking it? We add sugar to the water in which we boil our corn.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I tape a calendar to the inside of my portable typewriter case and it is always conveniently before me.

BONNIE F. BRAUN.

DEAR HELOISE: I always cover the outside of my pots and pans with soap before using them over a charcoal fire; then the smoke stains and soot will wash off easily and quickly.

MISS WOODWARD

DEAR HELOISE: When we spread powdered fertilizer on our lawn, we use an old flour sifter. . . the kind that has a handle you squeeze to make the flour come out through the screen at the bottom.

A fairly large sifter does a really grand job.

The addition of some flour, as you suggested last year, is good, too. This lets us see exactly where we have spread the fertilizer, so that we do not go over the same row twice.

PEG.

LISTEN GALS: For those of you who have trouble with some types of spray starches spotting your clothing, and especially those who spray DRY clothes:

Try dampening a sponge with water; then after spraying with your canned starch, pick up the damp sponge and wipe the sprayed portion. THEN iron!

But you will find you won't have so many spots, etc.

The damp sponge will smear your starch, and (because of the dampness), won't absorb all those tiny beads of expensive spray starch.

Also, you will find the starch is not as apt to stick to your iron by using this method.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When I want a little darker shade in my nylon stockings, I simply boil a few tea bags with them for a minute or so, turn off the heat, let it cool and rinse later.

BEVERLY JO.

DEAR HELOISE: Most children are careless about putting the lid back on the cookie jar.

So . . . to keep the edge of the cookie jar and the lid from being chipped or broken, I cut a piece of one-half inch adhesive tape long enough to go around the top edge of the cookie jar.

I put the tape on the edge of the jar and pressed it down all around the edge. I made sure that more than half the width of the tape was on the inside of the jar, so it could not be seen from under the lid.

Now I have no more worries

Beaver Retarded Child Head Takes New Post

C. A. Peters of Beaver, executive director of the Beaver County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, has accepted a position as Region II consultant for the comprehensive Mental Health Planning Project. His resignation from the local organization will be effective July 3.

Peters has been with the association two years. Previously he taught special education for the retarded in the county school system. In this new position, Peters will work under the Pennsylvania Council for Human Services, primarily with community leaders. He will have responsibility for liaison with the projects central staff in Harrisburg. He will also provide data to community committees concerning specific problems in the mental health - mental retardation field.

The Comprehensive Mental Health Plan was given its initial inception by the late President Kennedy. There are eight areas for planning purposes in Pennsylvania.

The human brain weighs an average of 12 ounces at birth, increasing to about three pounds as an adult.

To vary that can of cream of potato soup, add whole-kernel corn or mushrooms. If you have leftover cooked corn on the cob, just cut off the kernels and use them. If the mushrooms are fresh, they may be cooked lightly in butter or margarine before adding to the soup.

Playlot Events At Midland Will Begin Monday

A series of special events planned at Midland playgrounds will begin Monday with a treasure hunt, it was announced by Henry Kuzma, supervisor. The playlots opened June 15.

Others will be a scavenger hunt, July 6; pet show, July 13; doll show, July 20; dress-up contest, July 27; puppet show, Aug. 5, and a talent show, Aug. 12.

Championship events are scheduled for each Friday, with the checkers contest today.

He said that other special events planned for the season include wiener roasts, movies, skating party and possibly a trip to Pittsburgh for a Pirates baseball game.

Playgrounds are open from 10 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 and 5:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Ed Olkowski is in charge of the 1st St. lot, assisted by Miss Ernestine Delfiaco; George Fresty the Midland Heights playground; Kuzma, the 7th St. lot, assisted by Richard Palmer and Miss Anita Maroni, and John Wilson, the 10th St. playground, which is open for the first time in a number of years.

Miss Maroni and Miss Delfiaco head the arts and crafts program. Kuzma said registration at each playground will continue through this week. He urged participation of younger children as personnel is adequate to supervise more of the younger boys and girls.

Miss Myrtle Strabley, Neal Strabley, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jakubowski and Mrs. Agnes Ruthkowski have returned after attending the funeral of Mrs. Myrtle Stitt Mason of Cleveland, Wednesday.

California surpassed all other states of the U. S. throughout the past 10 years in population growth, followed in order by Florida, New York, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, and New Jersey.

Bus Runs Listed For Girls Camp

The bus schedule for the sessions of Camp Fire Girls beginning July 6 at Echo Dell Camp has been announced by Mrs. Paul Davis, camp chairman.

The bus will leave the Diamond at 9 each morning and make the following stops, North Side Fire Station, Maplewood Ave., Joe Gallo's Store on St. Clair Ave., and the Calcutta Elementary School. Camping will be held regardless of the weather as shelters have been provided. Sessions will close July 24.

Girls will bring nosebag lunches, a plastic or tin cup, and a blanket or "sit-upon."

Miss Cindy Calcott will supervise activities designed for any girls in the community in the age group of 7 through 14.

AMERICAN ELECTRIC AEP POWER SYSTEM

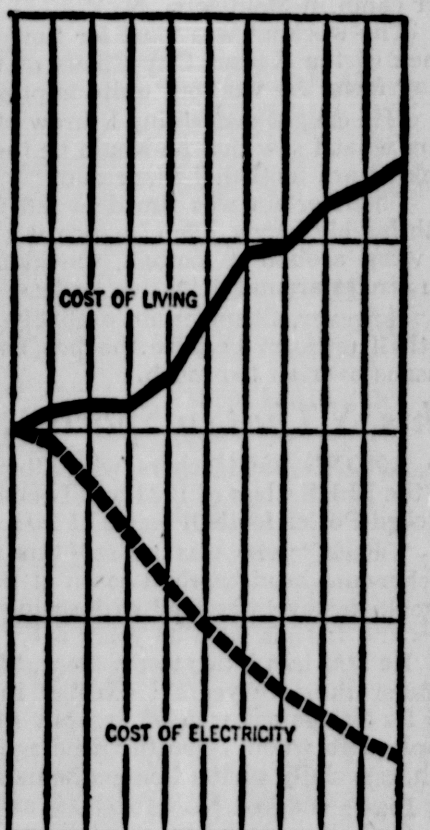

In a community that is willing and able to attract new industry, a supply of reliable, low-cost electric power is often a deciding factor in bringing in new businesses with their new jobs and payrolls. In this way, low electric rates can make a very significant contribution to the community as a whole and to its people.

Abundant, reliable low-cost power helps provide a higher standard of living. For instance, if an electric company is investor owned such as we are, it provides important taxes that help pay for schools, roads and other services.

Low rates aren't the whole story

Our rates were never so low. This chart shows how the average cost per kilowatt hour of electricity has been lowered 18% in the past 10 years, while cost of living has risen 14% in the same period . . . and we're dedicated to continue this trend.

Mr. A. N. Prentice, Vice Pres. & Gen. Mgr. Ohio Power Company, Canton, Ohio. I am interested in learning how I can go "step by step" to Total Electric living. Please send free booklet.

McNea Has Proper Credentials . . .

If the proper credentials mean anything, the mild mannered Bob McNea, new grid boss of the Potters, should be successful here.

McNea brings outstanding academic and coaching records to East Liverpool. Supt. Paul Blair said McNea was better qualified to teach and coach, as far as credentials go, than any of the other candidates who had applied.

Academically, he has a Masters Degree, is currently working on a Ph. D., and has had 15 years in the coaching game.

McNea wasn't grabbed out of the list of applicants as an emergency issue. He was the top choice of Supt. Blair, but when first approached about the East Liverpool post, McNea seemed reluctant to accept. He was contacted again - - after the 11th hour refusal by Howard Weyers - - learned more about the position and accepted.

In talking to other coaches who knew McNea when he was coaching either at Mansfield or Leetonia, they all were of the same opinion, "you are getting one of the best."

McNea moved into the head spot here after Weyers, who had been granted the Potter job, declined at the last minute to remain at Maple Heights.

Blair added that McNea was one of the few applicants who had taught on both the high school and college level. He was an assistant professor in physical education at Kent State University.

The question was asked, Why did McNea leave Kent State to take a high school position? McNea was hired at Kent in 1962 and served under Trevor Rees. Leo Strang, who made his name at Massillon, was hired earlier this year to replace Rees. McNea was not rehired as an assistant coach because Strang had to make room for his own assistants, which usually is the case in the college ranks.

He served four seasons as an assistant in the Big 10 as backfield coach at Northwestern.

Getting back to his high school coaching career, McNea a Miami U. grad, has held head coaching jobs at Leetonia and Mansfield.

Incidentally, McNea is the second East Liverpool coach who has served at Leetonia. He replaced Bob Gibson there when Gibson came to East Liverpool in 1953.

McNEA, in his second year at Leetonia, gave that community its first undefeated season since 1945. That came in the 1954 campaign with an 8-0-1 record which was marred only by a tie to Sebring.

His Leetonia squad also led the district in total offense and defense. The 1954 eleven scored 202 points and allowed opponents only 54 points in nine games, and that's an average of six points per contest, if our arithmetic is correct.

He stepped up to Mansfield the following year and success followed with an 8-1-1 record, including a tie with powerful Massillon, and the next year was 9-1 as Mansfield defeated Massillon.

McNea has emphasized defense. In two years the powerful Massillon teams only managed three touchdowns and he stressed the defensive phase of the game at Leetonia.

TWO VACANCIES remain on the varsity level at ELHS and two junior high posts at East End have to be filled. Supt. Blair said there is a possibility that one vacancy on the varsity staff may be filled by promoting a coach who is already in the East Liverpool system.

The announcements are expected to be made soon.

'Wilt The Stilt' Tries Football! . . .

ALTHOUGH it is quite remote that this will happen, Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-1 scoring machine of the San Francisco Warriors, impressed the pro football world the other day in a brief workout at a boys' summer camp in Monticello, N. Y.

The workout was "just for fun" but Hank Stram, coach of the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL, walked away from the workout quite impressed.

"He caught everything I threw at him. I'm certain from what I saw that he would be the greatest flanker back in pro football," Stam said.

Chamberlain was timed at 4.6 for 40 yards and with his big hands, one of which is almost big enough to wrap around a football, the giant could possibly run circles around defensive backs.

However, Chamberlain probably will never don a football uniform because the pro basketball and the seasons overlap too much.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

AMONG the teachers who attended the reunion for the ELHS Class of 1934 was Leland Schachern who coached Potter football teams of that era.

"Shach," who was retired this past month as a teacher and head baseball coach at Beaver Falls High School, was overwhelmed with seeing some of the athletes and friends from 30 years ago.

He said in a letter to this desk, "I shall always remember the five years I coached in East Liverpool, not for the games won or lost but for the wonderful people with whom I had the privilege to be associated with, especially such a fine gentleman as Tom Dixon." Dixon coached basketball the same year "Shach" was football mentor here.

DURING our recent vacation a good friend and a man who devoted a great deal of his time to youngsters passed away. He was "Soap" Wilson who for years produced outstanding American Legion baseball teams for Post 374.

After his managing days he became tournament director for the Legion. His family has our sympathy.

WATERFORD Park plans to "cool off" some of its fans. Workmen are installing huge circulating fans in the mezzanine that will draw and circulate the air in the entire grandstand. It should make the area 15 to 25 percent cooler during the day.

BOB HEDMOND, former Potter grid coach who accepted an assistant football post at Steubenville Big Red, has been named head wrestling coach at the down river school.

Barber Gives NY Neat 3-1 Trim Lynch Belts Two, Bucs Top Cousins

Birds Move To 2½-Game Lead In AL

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dust off the first chair, boys — Baltimore's fanciest Barber is back in business!

Steve Barber, who bossed the Orioles' pitching corps a year ago with a 20-13 mark, can count his 1964 victories on one hand. But the three-hit, nine-strikeout trim job he did on New York Thursday night in a 3-1 verdict over the Yankees had all the earmarks of a return to 1963 form.

The southpaw's effort, coupled with home runs by Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson, gave the Orioles a sweep of the three-game series and stretched their American League lead over the Yanks to 2½ games.

A month ago, Barber was still looking for his first victory. He had started five games, finished none and was laboring with a sore arm and a 6.63 earned run average.

Now he's 4-4 with two complete games in his last three starts and a 3.79 ERA. His left arm is healthy again, which is more than can be said for the Yankees' arm.

They came into Baltimore on a five-game win streak and left with their heads shaved. Manager Yogi Berra, however, was unimpressed.

"We're one game behind (in the loss column) with 98 to play," he purred.

While the Orioles were mistreating New York for the third straight time, the red-hot Los Angeles Angels captured their ninth in a row, nipping Kansas City 4-3, and climbed into a sixth-place tie with idle Boston. Cleveland overpowered Minnesota 8-1 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Barber's scissors slipped once against the Yanks. Joe Pepitone led off the third inning with his ninth homer. But Powell's 16th circuit—his third in the series—and Robinson's eighth, both off loser Jim Bouton, gave Barber all the runs he needed before 36,369 fans, largest Baltimore crowd of the season.

Bob Rodgers' sixth-inning single scored Bob Perry, snapping a 3-3 deadlock at Los Angeles and extending the longest winning streak in Angel history. Fred Newman recorded his fourth straight victory with the aid of Dan Osinski's scoreless three-inning relief stint.

Veterans Jim Piersall and Vic Power each delivered runs in the Angels' three-run third inning. Bill Bryan hit a solo homer for the A's, who scored twice in the top of the sixth, to tie it.

Max Alvis crashed his third homer in two games and Jack Kralick won his eighth game in 10 decisions as the Indians cuffed former teammate Mudcat Grant. Kralick collected three hits and combined with reliever Don McMahon for a three-hitter.

Larry Brown also homered for Cleveland and Dick Houser went 3-for-5. The Twins' Bob Allison stretched his hitting string to 15 games with a fourth-inning double.

Outfielder Turns Homer Into An Out

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—As a high fly hit by Dan Napoleon soared toward the fence Thursday night, evidently bound for home run territory, it was suddenly snared from the air in a spectacular catch—or so it appeared.

But later, outfielder John May of the Binghamton Triplets in the Class A New York-Pennsylvania League admitted he didn't catch the ball after all. He said he went through the gestures, but actually substituted the ball that was hit out of the park, with one he had in his uniform pocket.

May apologized to Auburn Manager Clyde McCullough and explained he was sorry to Binghamton Manager Andy Pafko, who said as far as he was concerned the incident "is closed."

Napoleon was credited with the homer.

Auburn won the game, 8-2.

Yogi Berra was the youngest catcher ever voted the most valuable player award. He was 26 when he won the American League version of the award in 1951. He also won the honor in 1954 and 1955.

Politics Hit Wimbledon First Time In 78 Years

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Officials at aristocratic Wimbledon, which prides itself on being the world's best-run tournament, were wondering today just what to do if any more Communist players refuse to play with South Africans because of apartheid.

These included the holders of the men's and women's titles—Chuck McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., who was taken to four sets by Denmark's bearded Torben Ulrich, 7-5, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, and Marge Smith of Australia, who struggled through a marathon first set before beating Mrs. Karen Susman, of San Antonio, Tex., 1962 winner but unseeded this year, 11-9, 6-0.

Politics hit Wimbledon tennis for the first time in its 78 years Thursday when Russia's No. 2 player, Alex Metreveli, scratched from the men's singles after refusing to meet South African Abe Segal in a third-round match because of South Africa's racial policies.

This shock withdrawal was closely followed by Hungarian Istvan Gulyas pulling out of the men's doubles in which he was to have partnered Segal.

Now Wimbledon officials are wondering if another player, Mrs. Suzi Kormoczy of Hungary, will withdraw from the doubles first-round match in which she is scheduled to play with Christiane Mercelis of Belgium against Segal's wife, Heather, and Carol Prosen of Orlando, Fla.

One Wimbledon official said: "To keep political propaganda out of Wimbledon in the future we should insist that a player can only withdraw if he produces a valid medical certificate."

Russian coach Semyn Belitz-German said: "The decision was entirely up to Metreveli's own conscience. There was no pressure from me or from the tennis association in Moscow."

Politics apart, Thursday saw the exit of the first seed in the women's bracket — seventh-ranked Jan Lehane of Australia. Norma Baylon, the young Argentine star, beat her 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Otherwise, all of the seeds, both men and women, who took the courts Thursday came through — though several had some uneasy moments.

Sandy Koufax set his record but the 35,930 Candlestick Park fans who saw him do it probably will remember Del Crandall's performance a lot longer.

Koufax has struck out 10 or more batters in a game 54 times before, but how many times has Crandall had four hits in a game?

It was the veteran catcher's fourth safety of the night that broke up a 13-inning oldtime Giant - Dodger donnybrook Thursday night and gave San Francisco a 2-1 squeaker over Los Angeles.

Crandall, acquired from Milwaukee last winter, delivered the key blow in the final inning after hits by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda and an intentional walk to Jim Ray Hart had loaded the bases.

Crandall, batting .188 going into the game, cracked his game-ending hit off Nate Oliver's glove as Cepeda scrambled across with the winning run.

Four innings earlier, Koufax had broken the mark he shared with Rube Waddell and Bob Feller, by reaching the 10-or-more strikeout plateau for the 55th time in his career.

The Dodgers got their first run on Ron Fairly's third homer of the year in the seventh.

San Francisco tied it on Mays' walk and steal of second and Tom Haller's pinch single in the eighth.

Ken Boyer and Dick Groat cracked eighth inning doubles to drive in the three Cardinal runs as St. Louis rallied to beat Bob Bruce. Boyer's two-run shot came after Curt Flood walked and Bill White singled. Groat's hit added the insurance run.

Bob Aspromonte drove in both Houston runs with a pop fly double in the second inning and a homer in the sixth.

Chester Teams Cash In For Softball Victories

It was Chester night in the City Softball League as two teams from Chester posted victories.

Chester VFW nipped American Vit., 4-3 and the Chester Merchants were 10-1 winners over T.K. Roofing.

Jack Thayer's home run and doubles by Joe Anderson and John Owens sparked the Chester VFW attack as Howard Wilson picked up the pitching victory. Wilbur Staley banged a triple for the losers which saw Schoolcraft being checked with the loss.

Dan Barton only allowed one run in pitching the Chester Merchants to victory. Bill Holme and Chick McMillan had three hits each and Jim Shenton two for the winners.

Tebbetts Faces Exam, Hopes To Rejoin Club

ANNA MARIA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, Cleveland Indians manager who has been recuperating from a heart attack at his home, left Thursday for Cleveland with hopes of rejoining the club.

Tebbetts will first undergo a complete physical examination and if permitted by his physicians, will rejoin the Indians immediately.

Tebbetts suffered the heart attack April 1 during spring training in Arizona.

Accompanying him were his wife, Mary, and four children.

North To Meet South In Renewal Of Ohio Floor Classic Saturday

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Some of the classiest scholastic basketball stars in Ohio go on display here Saturday night when the North tangles with the South in the annual all-star high school game.

The cage classic, renewed after a two-year lapse, finds the South leading the series 3-2 and favored to cop the 1964 contest.

Both squads are loaded with hotshot performers but the Reels boast player-of-the-year Bill Hosket, a 6-foot-6 standout who led Dayton Belmont to the Class AA title last March.

Hosket, one of the most sought after high school players until his decision to attend Ohio State, is a strong rebounder and fine outside shooter.

The 200-pound Dayton star connected on 50 per cent of his field goal tries last season leading Belmont to a gaudy 26-1 record.

Geiberger Leads Cleveland By 1

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP)—Austrian-born Jim Ferrier, a world golf tourist for a quarter-century, wishes he had had a crack at some of the present-day purses while in his prime. Now only a year away from the half-century mark, genial Jim figures he could have made a lot of money with the more than 20 tournaments he has won since 1944. He picked up only $3,500 as first prize for winning the PGA Championship in 1947, but last year Jack Nicklaus received $13,000 for the same chore.

Ferrier, who didn't help his hopes or financial situation Thursday with an opening 76 in the $100,000 Cleveland Open—only six of the field of 159 finished back of him—sees a big fiscal future for the golfing greats.

"Practically every tournament is worth $50,000 or more these days," he said. "In 1953 the total purses were $562,000 and last year they were over $2 million and they'll go on up."

"In the first America tournament I entered about 1940, the total purse was $3,500 and the winner got $850. The winner of this Cleveland meet gets $20,000."

Jim said golf had been good to him, about $160,000 in the last 15 years but will be better for the crop of youngsters now getting into the act.

The tourist put on quite a show Thursday in the opening round here and old man par- he's 71—took a beating. Sixty-three of the 159 starters broke par, 22 others matched it, and only one amateur soared as high as 80.

Al Geiberger, the 26-year-old Californian, birdied six of the last 10 holes to take the lead with a 64 over the 6,821-yard par-71 Highland Park municipal layout, and his edge was a single stroke. On his heels with 65 were Tony Lema, winner of two of the last three tournaments, and long-hitting George Bayer.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer was in an eight-way tie for eighth with 67, and Jack Nicklaus was in a 10-way deadlock for 16th with 68. Other holes were scattered all over the board as they headed into today's second round of the 72-hole four-day test.

Indications were that sub-par totals would be necessary to stay in the fight as the field is cut to 90 at the halfway mark.

Pusateri Nine, Tri-State And Roger's On Top

Pusateri's, Tri-State Appliance and Roger's Drive - In gained the win column Thursday in the Minor League.

Pusateri's, behind the four hit pitching of Kevin Francis, who struck out 13 batters, defeated M & A Motors, 16-13. Francis had control trouble though as he issued 14 walks during the six-inning affair.

Francis helped his own cause at the plate with three hits while John Grafton had two hits and drove in four runs. Marty Lampine also slammed a pair of singles for the winners.

Tri-State Appliance walloped Potters Savings & Loan, 19-6 on a 15-hit attack featured by Tom Samples and D. Lawson who had four hits each. Samples was the winning pitcher and showed 10 strikeouts. K. Kuczynish had three singles for the losers.

Roger's Drive-In scored 10 runs in the last three innings to top Potters Bank & Trust, 16-8. Randy Manley carried the hot bat for Roger's with a home run, two doubles and a single. Norman Fitch added a double and two singles to the attack. Dutch Wright, the winner on the hill, fanned nine opponents. Bill Miller blasted a double and three singles to account for four of his team's 10 hits in a losing cause.

Eye National AAU

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—America's top track and field stars, pointing for the long Olympic journey to the Tokyo Olympics, will be trying to qualify for the short trip to the Olympic Trials in New York when the two-day National AAU Championships get under way Saturday.

After the seven-year-old died, jockey Buford Mills, riding Suburban, the horse that finished second, lodged a claim of foul against him but it was not allowed by the Stewards after reviewing the films of the race.

This is the first time that a horse won his race and dropped dead from the effort then had a foul claimed against him.

East Vs. West Saturday Night

Mira Hopes To Sharpen Up In Buffalo All-Star Tilt

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George Mira hopes to sharpen up in two all-star games for his big chance with the San Francisco 49ers. The fabulous quarterback from the University of Miami has been dreaming of playing pro ball since his sophomore year.

"The 49ers have a good one in John Brodie," said Mira. "I hope to learn a lot from him. I hope I can get to play this year. It's tough to sit on the bench. It's a big step and I'm anxious to get there and learn all I can."

Mira will quarterback the East team against the West in the All-America game at War Memorial Stadium Saturday night, co-sponsored by the American Football Coaches Association and the Buffalo Evening News. The game will be carried on network (ABC) television.

"Coach Jack Christiansen was down to Miami in January and spent some time with me," said Mira. "We went over films and a couple of plays. I think the big problem is learning the different defenses and knowing when to change plays at the line of scrimmage."

Mira has some apt targets on the East squad, coached by Pete Elliott of Illinois. Bob Lacey of North Carolina and Jim Kelly of Notre Dame will be at the ends and Paul Marth of Pitt at the flanker spot, plus little Sherm Lewis of Michigan State at left half.

LaCroft Posts 2nd Victory In Playground Loop

LaCroft posted its second straight victory in the Western Division of the Playground League with a 27-1 rout of Glenmoor.

Herb Nelson was the winning pitcher while Randy McVay and Mike Watson collected five hits each.

Clark Field gained its first win of the season with a 26-2 decision over Jefferson. W. Horoszko was the winning hurler for the Clark nine which collected 23 hits.

Emmanuel was a 12-11 winner of East Junior High in the Eastern League. Buzz Arrington of East Junior busted four home runs while Don Pasco and Bruce Christian had four hits each but they came in a losing cause.

Jim Musuraca homered for Emmanuel and Bill Cain came up with three hits.

The last world heavyweight championship fight to go the full 15 rounds was in 1954 when Rocky Marciano outpointed Ed- ward Charles in Yankee Stadium.

Vet Nine, Vernon Dell, Chester Win In LL

Veteran Plate Glass continued along the winning path while Vernon Dell and Chester Legion gained the winner's circle in Thursday's Little League contest.

Vet Glass handed Golden Star a 9-3 setback behind the four hit pitching of Joe Walker who recorded six strikeouts. Walker and Joe March paced the eight-hit attack by the Vets with two safeties each. Jim Massey pounded a double and single for the losers.

Vernon Dell had to stave off a late bid by the Travelers Hotel to earn a 5-4 victory. The Travelers came up with four runs in the last of the fifth after Vernon Dell had been sailing along on a 5-0 lead.

John Cunningham, the winning pitcher, also led his team at the plate by belting three with the pitching loss. Steve Murray fanned 10 batters and gave up five hits in Chester Legion's 9-5 victory over Burbick's. Al Talkington and Ralph Seever had a double and single each for the Chester nine while Murray added two singles to his own cause. Cornell paced Burbick's with a pair of hits.

Mrs. Hooks 'Hooked' For Selling Minnows
Mrs. Ellen Hooks of New Waterford, arrested for selling minnows without a permit, was fined $100 and costs by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine Thursday. The judge suspended $95 of the fine.

She and her husband, Herbert, operate "Herbert's Bait Shop." The arrest was made earlier this week by a representative of the Ohio Division of Conservation.

ASCS Slates Balloting On Committees

LISBON — Farmers are being reminded that slates of nominees for membership on the agricultural, stabilization and conservation service community committees soon will be established at the ASCS county office and a special effort is being made to secure the greatest possible participation of eligible voters.

J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the Columbiana County ASCS committee, said farmers eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve.

Such petitions, signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed at the county office any time before July 10.

A farmer eligible to vote in the committee elections, according to the chairman, is generally a farmer who is taking part or is eligible to take part in one or more of the national farm programs which the ASCS committee helps administer.

A person eligible to hold office as a committeeman—among other qualifications—is a local resident who is eligible to vote in the election. Further information on these and other qualifications may be obtained from the ASCS office.

The election of ASCS community committees throughout Columbiana County will be held by mail between July 24 and Aug. 9. Boundaries of the communities will remain the same.

Each community election will choose three community committeemen and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman and regular member of the elected ASCS community committee will also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate, and second alternate delegate to the county convention to be held soon hereafter, when he ASCS county committee will be chosen.

Man, 76, Injures Hip In Curb Fall

An elderly man who tripped at a curb and fractured his right hip was admitted to the Osteopathic Hospital Thursday.

A boy hurt in a cycling accident and a teen-ager injured in a fall from a tractor also were admitted and a youngster was treated in another mishap.

John Kane, 76, of 212 W. 6th St., was reported in "satisfactory" condition this morning with the hip injury.

Thomas Lynn Jr., 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynn of the Bell School Rd., also was in "satisfactory" condition with a fractured left elbow received when he fell off of his bike. He was admitted yesterday about 11 a. m.

Ronald Joy, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Joy of Georgetown, was admitted at 7:12 p. m. with abrasions of the sides of both hips suffered in the fall from a tractor.

Howard Reynolds Jr., 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reynolds, rear 653 Bradshaw Ave., was treated at 6:12 p. m. for possible fracture of the left wrist after he fell off a wall.

Youth, 15, Drowns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Donald Stein, 15, of suburban Whitehall drowned in the Big Walnut Creek on the east side while wading with a companion Thursday. The companion, John Pat Kelly, 16, of Columbus, said they were wading to shore. Kelly said he reached the bank first and when he turned around, Stein had disappeared. The body was recovered a little later.

A World Of Living
IS WHAT YOU'LL FIND

EVERY FEW MONTHS we are privileged to offer an outstanding home value. Approximately 1 mile south of Newell, a 1 story frame home with 3 large bedrooms, LOTS of closet space, ultra modern bath, special hardwood floors, and detached garage. Truly a home of exquisite taste and situated on a large corner lot completely fenced. There is much more than $16,000 of comfort and gracious living offered here, but that is all we're asking.

JUST 1 1/2 MILES out of Chester on Route 30, a 4 year old home with two large bedrooms, spacious living room, built-in kitchen, and two car garage in basement. Owner has left for the West Coast, so you will be undisturbed as YOU appraise this exceptional value. Priced to sell at $15,000.

LOCATED ON RT. 2. A large 7 room home situated on 1/4 acre with detached double garage, loads of room for the children both inside and out. House and garage NEED the presence of a handy man. Only $10,000 is needed to assume ownership. Priced to sell at $13,600.

JUST SIT BACK and let the income pay for this home at 411 5th St., Chester. A 7 room home that is close to everything and offering both COMFORT and CONVENIENCE. Will sell for $10,800.

810 LOUISIANA AVE., CHESTER. A real clean 4 bedroom with bath situated on a large beautiful lot. A GOOD BUY at $7,800.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a cement for mending ivory articles?

A. Melt together equal parts of gutta percha and ordinary pitch. Warm the pieces that are to be united before fastening.

Q. How can I remove machine grease from clothing?

A. Add a little ammonia in which salt has been dissolved will also remove such stains.

Q. How can I make an effective, but harmless, whitener for my dainty curtains and fine linens?

A. A tablespoonful of powdered borax, added to your final rinse water, will do this.

Q. How can I remove kinks and bends from a stiff electric wire?

A. Place the wire on a board or other hard surface, then go over it with a cold iron, using just enough pressure to make the wire roll.

Q. How can I clean brick tiles?

A. You can make these tiles look like new by washing them with a cloth saturated with vinegar.

Q. How can I make my own blackboard?

A. You can create your own blackboard on a smooth plastered wall or on a shellacked wooden panel by applying several coats of the following paint: Two ounces of fine lamp-black, mixed with eight ounces of fine pumice powder, and 16 ounces of boiled linseed oil. To this add enough turpentine to make four pints. After applying, let it dry, then sand it smooth in between coats.

Q. How can I test the accuracy of my bathroom scales?

A. Weigh several five or ten-pound bags of sugar or flour on it. Now do you believe the story it tells you?

A Junior Editors Quiz About TREES

QUESTION: Why do we need trees?

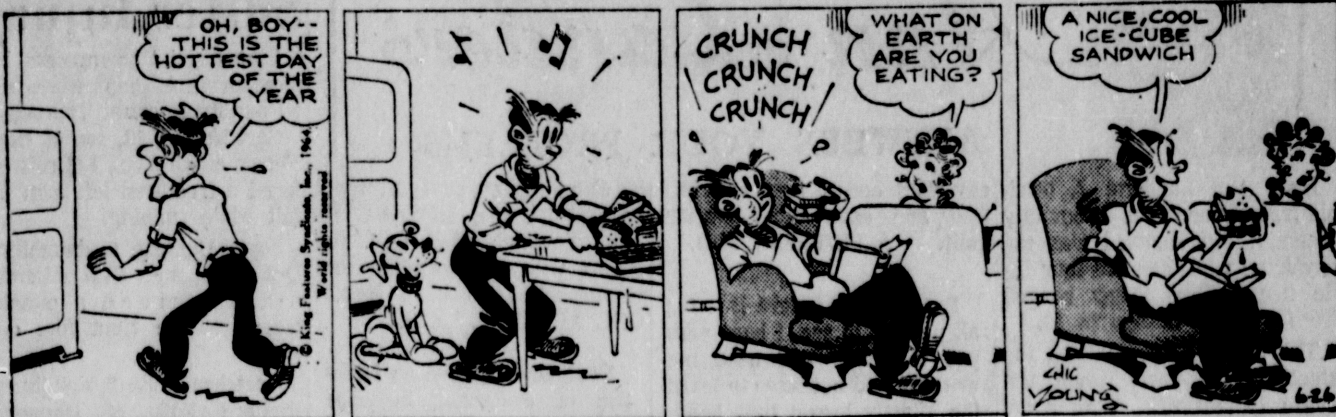

ANSWER: We could write a dozen articles explaining the value of trees and even then we wouldn't have covered the subject. Our picture suggests some of the things trees do for us. Trees shelter the ground from the sun's drying action and help preserve our water supply, giving us lakes and streams like the one in the picture. At the same time, tree roots and the rich humus from decaying leaves hold the soil in place and prevent too much of it from being carried away by streams and rivers. Without trees, we would have few nuts and fruits, no chocolate, cocoa or maple syrup; no oranges, apples or grapefruit; no lemonade! Trees provide enormous amounts of lumber used in building houses, supply pulp for paper making, give us oils, gums, resins and many medicines. Trees also give us many plastic substances and enable us to tan leather.

Apart from these particular values, think of all the pleasures and satisfactions trees give us! Andy, in the picture, is excited because he sees a deer, but the deer wouldn't be there if there were no woods. Trees give us endless beauty—think of the tree blossoms in spring, the shade of trees in the hot summer, the flaming excitement of the colors of fall—all brought to us because of trees!

FOR YOU TO DO: Here are the names of the trees whose leaves are shown at right: Pitch, Pine, White Birch, Black Oak, White Oak, weeping willow, wild cherry, yellow birch, sugar maple, pecan, locust. See if you can fit these names to the leaf pictures.

Ray Finge of Lake Charles, La., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Dictionary plus $10 cash, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A terrible tragedy occurred in our city recently. My husband was the physician who attended four little fire victims. They ranged from 3 years of age to 10.

The parents were "down the street" at a party when the house caught fire. They saw nothing wrong in leaving the youngsters alone. Three of the children died. The 10-year-old survived, but he is so broken-hearted and bitter that he refuses to speak to his parents.

What manner of madness seems to have gripped parents these days? You need only to read the newspapers to know how frequently youngsters are left alone and burn to death. If the gay party is so important, isn't it worth the price of a sister?

I'm asking for your help, Ann Landers. You have the largest reading audience in the world. Please alert thoughtless parents to the fact that children under 12 need an adult in the house whether they are asleep or awake.

Most parents accept this responsibility gladly. If a tragedy does occur, they can face God and each other without guilt. — A MOTHER, TOO.

Dear Mother: Here it is for all parents to see. I hope with you that they will heed the warning and not have to learn the ghastly lesson first hand.

Disappointed Reader

Dear Ann: I was deeply disappointed in your answer to "Oys-Gashpilt." The poor gal was sick and tired of carrying the financial load for her husband and you gave her precious little comfort.

To begin with, I don't know if you speak German but "Oys-Gashpilt" means "played out." After 25 years of pullin' that barge and totin' that bale, it's not hard to understand how a wife could be plenty fed up.

You told her the guy had tried and financial failure is no reason to leave a husband. You then advised her to stick with the lummox because Cary Grant is not waiting for her.

Well, for your information Cary Grant recently celebrated his 60th birthday, so it just might be that he, too, is "Oys-Gashpilt." You flubbed it, Doll. Ten lashes with an unemployment compensation check for your—ONE ADMIRER LESS.

Dear One: I have no intention of discussing in print who is "Oys-Gashpilt" and who isn't.

Age is only a number, Baby. I'm sorry if I let you down but it's impossible to be all things to all people every day—365 days a year.

Roaming Romeo

Dear Ann: For 12 years my husband has been having high school type romances. (He calls them "friendships.")

I have tried to be a sweetheart as well as a wife but he doesn't seem to notice. Every new job and new location (he has had four) brings him new "friends".

I can't leave for three good reasons, so please don't suggest it. I've tried to talk to him about the problem but he insists it is purely friendship. Once he said, "If you don't stop making such ridiculous accusations, I'm going to live up to your low opinion of me." So you see he has me cornered.

I've tried smiling and pretending not to notice but my stomach is tied up in knots. What can I do? — SMILING ME.

Dear You: Unless you have solid evidence (you gave none in your letter) assume that he is faithful.

If you have the goods on him, however, and you can't leave for "three very good reasons" then knock off the complaints, turn on the heat and hope he grows out of his adolescence and into manhood before his children get old enough to notice.

5 Youngsters Suffer Injury

Five district youngsters hurt in separate mishaps were treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Carl Nelson, 13, son of Elmer Nelson of 5th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a fractured left arm in a fall while running.

Joyce DeLong, 6, daughter of Dean DeLong, 2137 Michigan Ave., received a puncture wound of the right foot on a nail.

Gretchen Polk, 2, daughter of Richard Polk of Homewood Ave., suffered a cut of the forehead in a fall from a tricycle.

Nancy Means, 8, daughter of Raymond Means, 1713 Commerce St., Wellsville, was treated for a cut of the knee after a fall from a bicycle.

Linda Sue Miller, 14, daughter of William Miller of Laurel Heights, Chester, suffered a cut finger on a jar at home.

Lucy Ferling, 70, of Charleston, W. Va., was treated for a thumb injury received when caught in a car door.

Group Advised State Is Buying Land For Park

LISBON — The Ohio Division of Parks has started acquiring some land for Beaver Creek Park, according to a report made at the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council meeting Thursday night at St. George's Parish Hall. There were 22 members present.

During July, Tuesday night work meeting, will be held for volunteer workers to assist in the Gaston's Mill restoration. Work hours will be 6 to 9 p.m. and any person desiring may report at the mill at those hours.

A Council member will also be at the mill each Sunday afternoon to explain its operation to visitors.

Donations still are needed for the restoration and any person desiring to donate may mail their contributions to Gaston Mill Fund, Lisbon, Ohio, 44432. Last month's total was $300.
